

CARDINALS DRAW FINAL PLANS FOR PAPAL ELECTION

Sistine Chapel Being Fitted
With Stalls for the Utmost
Secrecy in Balloting.

ROME, Jan. 30.—(By the Associated Press).—Final preparations were begun today for the convening Thursday of the solemn conclave at which the cardinals of the Roman Catholic church will choose a pope to succeed Benedict V. The last minute ceremonials will be preceded by three solemn requiem masses, the first of which took place this morning.

The beautiful and historic Sistine chapel, in which the conclave will meet, has been fitted with the long stalls in which the cardinals will sit while the balloting proceeds. Minute instructions have been given out for the performance of the ceremonial. It has been prescribed that all prelates, excepting cardinals, will wear

Damazo so that any articles needed may be sent inside, but their operation must be only in the presence of two witnesses. These devices are in the form of cylinders placed vertically. By opening one of the valves placed within and transferred to those in the courtyard by revolving the cylinder until the opening is over the inside.

When the method of communication will only be allowed between 9 and 11 a. m. and 5 to 7 p. m. Any communication must be in the presence of the two witnesses. No reference to these communications must be made to members of the council, and any violator of the rule of secrecy is subject to ex-communication.

LONG PROCESS OF LAW REQUIRED ON COUNTY DIVISION

Further Legislation Necessary
Before Assets Can Be Distributed.

A division of the assets of the present county of Alameda into three or more parts, as would be demanded in the county divisionists' success, cannot be effected without long processes of law, according to an opinion given today by City Attorney Leon Gray. It is even probable that the city and county of Oakland would be powerless to receive its share of those assets, or that years would pass before the settlement could be made.

The constitution in section seven and a half A, under which the election for division has been called, provides that every city and county which shall be formed under its provisions shall be liable for a just proportion of the debts and liabilities and be entitled to a just proportion of the property and assets of such county existing at the time of separation.

The stumbling block appears with the fact that those who urged the constitutional amendment and had it passed made no provision for the legislature to carry it out. In other words, Gray says, the section is not self-executing, but requires legislative action to carry it into effect. There must be some court or some commission designated, some means to settle the differences in claims provided, and this has not been done.

When Tulare county brought action against Kings county the question came before the courts in the separation of Kings from a part of the old Tulare county. The legislature then, just as now, had no provision for the division of the assets and liabilities. The court denied that the law was self-executing and held that in the absence of legislative action there was no way in which the division could be forced. Thus, Gray says, it would be entirely within the uncontrolled discretion of the legislature whether Oakland would receive any assets at all and what would be the basis of apportionment.

"The legislature," Gray said, "for purely political reasons, might arbitrarily determine that Oakland should make certain payments to Alameda county. From this law there would be no redress."

Gray cites the case of Los Angeles against Orange county and Riverside

'Vicious Ward System' Is One Menace of Division

An explanation of the method by which it easily would be possible for corrupt or selfish interests composing a decided minority of the voters to control the city through what he termed the "vicious ward system" under the proposed Oakland charter was given by Attorney Carlos G. White in a meeting at the home of Dr. Minora E. Kibbe, 1805 Fruitvale avenue.

White, who was speaking against the proposed county division to be voted on February 7, declared this could be done merely by carrying four out of the seven wards by small majorities, while the remaining three wards were being carried by larger majorities by the decent element of the city.

CONTROL OF WARDS.
He said this would mean that a large majority of voters would be dominated by a minority representing "the interests," and called attention to the fact that corrupt forces always vote heavily, while the better element is more apt to remain away from the polls. He cited these as a possible example and which would put 23,250 voters in control of the city, while 46,750 voters were left out of power, the first figures representing the vote in favor of public welfare and the second the corrupt interests.

First ward 4900, 5100; second, 9000, 1000; third, 4300, 5150; fourth, 9500, 500; fifth, 4750, 5250; sixth, 8800, 1200; seventh, 4950, 5050.

White declared the city manager form of government offered Oakland in the proposed charter is by no means a real city manager form of government, such as obtains in Sacramento and other cities, but leaves the control of patronage and the city's affairs in the hands of the politicians. He said the Sacramento city manager may not be removed until after a hearing, then only by a vote of six out of nine councilmen and that he has the right of appeal to the supreme court. In Oakland's charter, he said, the manager is appointed or discharged at the pleasure of a majority of seven councilmen and he has no right of appeal. He declared this makes him the creature of four councilmen, instead of an independent manager, and makes it possible for corrupt or selfish politicians to dictate the appointment of all employees chosen by the manager.

WOULD INCREASE TAXES.
White said county division would increase instead of reducing taxes, because Oakland would lose $101,000,000 of its $274,000,000 of assessed valuation of property, or against San Bernardino county, to show what complications might arise.

SCREEN AUTHOR TRAVELS WEARY UPHILL ROAD

Writer of Successful Photo-plays Tells Experience in Quest of Success.

By JEANIE MACPHERSON,
Writer of "The Affairs of Anatol" and Other Paramount Pictures for Cecil B. DeMille.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—The road to fortune in writing for the screen is traveled with ordinary walking shoes—not seven-league boots.

And there is no such thing as rubber heels, or shock-absorbers of any description.

Not only must the would-be scenario writer keep an alert and observing eye on current affairs but he must back his stories with actual constructive reading that will increase his information.

And he must not be discouraged by rejection. The only way to learn how to write is to write and the beginner has no chance unless he continues in spite of continual failures. He must work and then work some more when all of his senses cry for rest. It is easy to say, "Well, now I have a few minutes, I'll dash off a scenario," but it is quite a different matter to write one that is one. Almost all that we receive are most apparently "dashed off"—and that is one of the principal troubles with them.

REVISION NECESSARY.

Revision, revision and revision is the history of the modern photoplay of the better class. A successful story must tell itself clearly, distinctly and with no waste motions. And clarity means work—monotonous, grinding search for the best word, for the shortest cut in expression, for a given situation.

Just to give you an idea—when I am in the midst of a scenario a fourteen-hour day is quite customary, fourteen hours of struggle.

After the story has been whittled into shape once, then I go over it again—and perhaps a few times more for good measure if there are still doubts in my mind or points that Mr. DeMille wishes clarified. I have often written whole scenarios.

Sodality Is Ready To Present Comedy

The Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Augustine's parish, through a committee, announced today that they are in readiness for the presentation of "Christopher Jr.," a four-act comedy, which will be staged by the sodality at the parish hall, Duane street and Alcatraz avenue, next Wednesday and Friday nights.

The cast for "Christopher Jr." has been recruited in its entirety from among the members of the sodality. Rehearsals have been in progress almost two months under the supervision of Miss May O'Keefe of San Francisco.

A one-act farce, "How a Girl Keeps a Secret," will follow "Christopher Jr."

Music will be supplied by an orchestra from St. Mary's college.

Funeral Held for Son of Professor

Funeral services were held today for David James, 8-year-old son of Professor E. O. James, member of the English department of Mills College, who died Saturday night after a few hours' illness. The services were held at the family residence, 3249 Seminary avenue. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

The lad attended school Friday and was taken ill that evening. In addition to his parents he is survived by two sisters, Flora and Mary Elizabeth.

Fight Against U. S. Judge Nominee Fails

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The nomination of Andrew Miller to be Federal judge for the North Dakota district was ordered reported favorably to the Senate today by the Judiciary committee. The action, Chairman Nelson said, was unanimous and based on a new report by a subcommittee, which recommended that charges against Miller be disregarded.

TO PERFORM AUTOPSY.

An autopsy will be performed today by Dr. E. V. Tiffany to determine what caused the death of Hugh E. McGuinn, who was found dead last night in a rear room of a soft drink parlor conducted by Joe Adams at 4098 San Pablo avenue. McGuinn was 45 years old and resided at 812 Alleen avenue.

PSYCHO-ANALYST STARTS SERIES OF STORIES TODAY

Tridon's First Article in The Tribune Today to Be Followed by Daily Lecture.

Today is a day of novelties—new thoughts, new ideas, new sciences, new methods of living, new explanations of all things.

What would have startled the reader of a decade ago has little more than passing interest today. The world is being revolutionized by new inventions and new modes. The unusual has become usual.

Now it is psycho-analysis.

For years we have done certain things and never knew or thought why we did them.

The psycho-analysts believe they have solved the problem.

Of these, the best known is Andre Tridon, writer, lecturer and leading psycho-analyst.

In this issue of The TRIBUNE Tridon commences his career as a contributor to this column.

Tridon has been prevailed upon to prepare a series of articles on psycho-analysis. He has been asked to prepare them so that a child may read and understand. Impossible though the task may seem, he has done it.

Disregarding the scientific terms and polysyllabic words, he has written his story of psycho-analysis in the language of the masses. He has used "one cylinder words" to express "twelve cylinder ideas."

The article today will be followed by a series of human documents by Tridon. Each day he will discuss a new phase of this science. He will so at it from all angles. Watch this column!

He will discuss Freudism and Psycho-analysis, nightmares, pleasant dreams, the school of Adler, the test of love, the psychology of card playing, the reason we run to fires and

Here is how The TRIBUNE will divide its $5000 cash prize for Scenario-Stories. Any boy or girl attending grammar school, high school or equivalent grades in private and public schools—any boy or girl in college or institutions with a college rating—any adult out of school—ANYWHERE IN CALIFORNIA, NORTH OF BAKERSFIELD AND SAN LUIS OBISPO.

Funeral Services for Jo. V. Snyder Held
NEVADA CITY, Cal., Jan. 30.—(By Associated Press.)—The funeral of Jo. V. Snyder, past grand president of the Native Sons of the Golden West, was held here yesterday in the midst of a snow storm. The services, under the auspices of the Native Sons' organization, were attended by upward of 500 people from all parts of the state.
State Senator Thomas Ingram, business associate of Snyder for the past thirty years, delivered the principal eulogy.
Snyder, who was twice a candidate on the Democratic ticket for the office of lieutenant governor of California, died here last Friday after an illness of two weeks of pneumonia. He was 48 years old and a native of Grass Valley and business manager of the Grass Valley Union, morning newspaper of that city.

LOST DOG READS TRIBUNE, THEN RETURNS HOME
"Tippy," a cocker spaniel, who went out into the world to have his fling the other day, is home again. Tippy read in The TRIBUNE an appeal from Walter Sprague of 1623 Woolsey street, Berkeley, his 3-year-old master. He came trotting home, accompanied by a man who had found him. Here is a letter of thanks sent to the editor of The TRIBUNE by Mrs. H. S. Sprague, Walter's mother:
"We want to thank you and The OAKLAND TRIBUNE for helping us find our dog Tippy who was lost on Friday night at Twenty-sixth and Perilla streets. Tippy was perfectly happy, having found friends, and being a lover of spaghetti he was perfectly at home. But Walter

Piedmont Avenue Dealers Plan Fete
The Piedmont avenue merchants will give a theater party at the Piedmont theater tonight. The show will include two shows, the first beginning at 7:15 o'clock and the second at 9 o'clock. The merchants will be accompanied by their families and friends.
The proceeds of the party will be used to advertise the business of Piedmont avenue. The merchants will donate $2 worth of merchandise. The committee consists of J. W. Pearson and G. W. Robinson. An outstanding film by Chaney in a film feature, "The Ace of Hearts." There will be two film comedies.

Man Struck by Train In Bay Shore Tunnel
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Run over by a train in a tunnel of the bay shore cutoff early today, John Sweeney of 314 Minnesota street was found unconscious by a locomotive crew and is in a serious condition at the Mission Emergency hospital.
Sweeney's arm was broken and he was suffering severely from cold and exposure. It is believed that he dragged himself to the mouth of the tunnel after he had been hit, but was unable to cry loud enough to be heard.

Paint Publicist to Address Ad. Club
Arthur Ross, advertising manager of a large San Francisco paint manufacturing concern, and Eugene Pignitore, "American violinist and jazz diplomat," will be the stellar attractions at the weekly luncheon of the Oakland Advertising club to be held tomorrow at the Hotel Oakland.
Ross will talk on "The Co-Ordination of Selling and Advertising Efforts." Pignitore has appeared in Paris and Vienna and more recently at Rio de Janeiro. He promises to offer an exceptional program; Miss Angela Pignitore will act as his accompanist.

Films of Britain to Be Shown at Benefit
Twelve reels of moving picture films, entitled "Beautiful Britain," will be shown tomorrow night at the Auditorium theater as a benefit for the Victoria memorial home in Marin county. The show is under the auspices of the Eastbay British societies.
The historical romances of Shakespeare, Bunyan and William Penn are shown in this moving picture, with many other scenes interesting alike to Americans and Englishmen.
Victoria memorial home cares for aged and infirm persons of British birth or descent.

ATTACKER SHOT TO DEATH
PONPOCKOCK, Miss., Jan. 30.—Will Bell, 29, colored, charged with having attacked a young white woman last night, was taken from officers' death today by unidentified men, as he was being transferred to Jackson, Miss., for safe keeping, and shot to death.

WHY DO THEY LIKE THIS MAN?

It Is Because He Has the Life and Energy that Red Blood Gives

He has a good color. He is strong and virile, and looks it. He is good humored. He laughs easily. In short, he is "full of life," which is simply another way of saying he is full of red blood. If you are weak and run-down and nervous, don't sleep very well and have a poor appetite go to your druggist and buy a few bottles of Gude's Pepto-Mangan and take it for a few weeks at meal-time. See how it will build you up by giving you plenty of good blood. Don't drag around half sick and half well. Get some "pep" into you by taking Pepto-Mangan. Sold in both liquid and tablet form.—Advertisement.

PISO'S SAFE AND SANE for Coughs & Colds

A GRATEFUL WOMAN'S STORY Mrs. Robert Blair, 461 S. 20th St., Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "I suffered two years with kidney and bladder trouble. After taking Foley Kidney Pills a few short weeks I found my trouble gradually disappearing. The backaches stopped and I am also free from those tired spells and headaches, and my vision is no longer blurred. Foley Kidney Pills help the kidneys keep the blood clean and eliminate the impurities that cause backache, rheumatic pains, sore, stiff and swollen joints and rashes."

Sorority House Is Scene of Beautiful Tea

The Delta Delta Delta sorority house on Leroy Avenue, Berkeley, was the scene of a brilliant tea Saturday afternoon when more than three hundred guests called to meet Miss Ruth Jackson, betrothed of Laurence Thayer Platt. Miss Jackson is one of the most feted of the brides-elect of her sorority. Hostesses of Saturday afternoon were Mrs. Angus Clark and her daughter, Miss Catherine Clark. Assisting them to pour were the members of the sorority, an attractive coterie of the co-ed set.

Mrs. William Vaughan, Jr., has sent out invitations for a bridge tea for Thursday afternoon when she will entertain at her home for the bride-elect.

LES AMIS CLUB ENTERTAINED. Miss Dixie Shirley Seaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Seaton of Berkeley, entertained Friday evening at a dancing party and supper for the members of Les Amis Club, the personnel of which includes a group of the sub-debutante set. Miss Seaton was assisted by her aunt, Mrs. Raleigh C. Hoos in receiving some fifteen couples during the evening. A buffet supper was served and a feature of the evening's pleasure was the "Rabbit Dance" given by a group of the sub-debs and their escorts.

News from Hawaii has been received of the betrothal of Miss Vera Marston, daughter of Captain and Mrs. W. H. Marston, a pioneer family of the college city and Ben Rush F. Rush. Both Miss Marston and her fiancé have been engaged in public health work in the islands. Miss Marston was graduated from the University of California hospital and served overseas as a nurse in the front line trenches. Her mother, Mrs. Marston, is president of the Second District California Congress of Mothers' Clubs and Parent Teachers Association. Rush is also a University of California graduate.

February 9 at the Francisco club Mrs. Louis James and Mrs. Charles Okell of Alameda, who recently returned from a tour of the orient, are to be hostesses at luncheon to a group of their friends. Bridge will be the after diversion.

Mrs. Louis Hickey is to be hostess to a score of friends at her home in Claremont the afternoon of February 14 when she will give a Valentine luncheon in honor of Miss Elsie Bishop, former Alameda girl whose engagement to George Stimmel has been announced. Miss Helen Rodolph will entertain at luncheon at her home Wednesday for Miss Bishop.

Mrs. Paul Dismore is to be hostess Wednesday at luncheon, one of a series of similar affairs she has planned for the spring.

Miss Suzanne Keating, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Keating, entertained Saturday afternoon at bridge at her home, her guests including many of the future debutantes of winter to come.

MISS MRS. MUR. The Misses Flora and Elizabeth Muir have issued invitations for the afternoon of February 15, for a tea

Say Ben-Gay BAUME BENGUE for Tooth Ache

DOES IT PAY TO WORRY ABOUT APPENDICITIS? Can appendicitis be guarded against? Yes, by preventing intestinal infection. The intestinal anti-septic, Adler-Lika, acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel removing ALL foul, decaying matter which might start infection. EXCELLENT for gas on stomach or chronic constipation. It removes matter which you never thought was in your system and which nothing else can dislodge. One man reports it is unbelievable the awful impurities Adler-Lika brought out. TRAVELED ALL OVER EUROPE IN HER SEARCH

Well-Known Fashionable Modiste Spared Neither Time Or Money and Visited Many Famous Resorts Trying to Regain Health.

Troubles of Twelve Years' Standing Overcome by Taking Tanlac and She Feels So Good It All Seems Like a Dream, Says Mrs. Thomas.

"When I think of the twelve long years that I suffered and of all the money I spent trying to get rid of my troubles and then think how completely and with such little expense I was restored to health by Tanlac, it all seems like a dream and looks almost too good to be true," said Mrs. W. E. Thomas, a fashionable modiste, whose establishment is located at 1940 Third Ave., San Diego, Cal.

"I had spared neither time nor money in seeking relief and had traveled all over Europe, had taken trips to Alaska and the Orient and visited many health resorts in America without getting any substantial benefit.

"The way Tanlac helped me, therefore, is all the more remarkable. My family, friends and relations are all astonished at the big change in me and say that I look at least fifteen years younger than my age."

"NOTE—Tanalac Vegetable Pills are an essential and vitally important part of the Tanlac treatment. You cannot hope to get the most satisfactory results from Tanlac without first establishing a free and regular movement of the bowels. Tanlac Vegetable Pills are absolutely free from calomel and are sold on a positive guarantee to give satisfaction.

Tanalac is sold in Oakland by the Owl Drug Company and leading druggists everywhere. —Advertisement.

For Cold on the Chest

Musterole is easy to apply and it does not blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Simply massage it in gently with the finger tips. You will be delighted to see how quickly it brings relief.

Get Musterole at your drug store. 25¢ and 50¢ in jars and tubes; hospital size, $2.

BETTER THAN A MUSTARD PLASTER

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

MIGHTY MUSIC OF OPERA SUFFERS BY POOR RENDITION

Last Offering of the Russian Opera Company Was 'Boris Godounoff.'

By ROY HARRISON DANFORTH. The mighty music that Moussorgsky wrote in "Boris Godounoff" should have mighty rendition, but it did not receive it last evening at the Auditorium Theater at the hands of the Russian Opera Company. The best opera in the company's local repertoire received the poorest rendition. From orchestra to chorus it lacked enthusiasm, and that where every incentive to enthusiasm was present.

For this is magnificent music, and far different from most of the things to which we are used. It is as elemental as Gibraltair and as awful as ever voice issued from the very heart of Russia. Its accents were Moussorgsky's. Yet it is more than that; it is general, cosmic, vast. The very unpopularity of the form, the rude vitality that roars through it, the trembling pathos that whips through it, too, inform it with values beside which the tinkling melodies of the Italian and French operas are sheer impudence.

NEEDED BEST INTERPRETATION. Such music should have the supermen and super-women of the operatic stage to interpret it, and less than these should approach it so thoroughly under the spell of its majesty as to permit no trifling. There was no glory last night in the coronation music and adjacent chorus. "Aida's" coronation is trivial before this, but I have yet to hear leave this weak by comparison. There was no idea of building on the stage and no apparent ability to build in the orchestra. Power was absent as from the hands of a babe. The comedy of the scene at the inn—that could be played. Even Xenia's plaintive mourning was adequately sustained, but these were simple things. When later in this act Boris was ascending he might have been singing his line in another theater so far as any unity of expression was concerned.

CHORUSES LACK NUMBERS.

Ina Bourskaya was once more a high light of the picture, both histrionically and vocally. In the title part, she flashed pleased particularly because of the quality of her voice, a bass of profound tone yet not ponderous. Gregory was in care of satisfactorily by Nicholas Bousnovsky. These Russians seem not to mind work, both he and Bourskaya were leads the night before. Lack of numbers tempered the impressiveness of most of the choruses. Perhaps that was the difficulty with the orchestra, too.

The statement that there was every incentive for the company's enthusiasm ought to be corrected. It was a cold night, the audience was small and the company was concluding an engagement that probably never will be repeated.

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau Information

"Is the Mussel Shoals project near the mouth of the Ohio, Tennessee river?" queries a TRIBUNE reader.

It is near the end of the river, where there are rapids. "What will this nitrate be useful for after Mr. Ford gets it made?" Nitrate is useful for fertilizer to enrich the soil. Since the war there has been a shortage of nitrate. "Please print a recipe for steamed brown bread."

Three cups graham flour, 3 test spoons baking powder, 1/2 cup melted butter, 1 cup molasses, 1 cup sweet milk, 1 cup raisins, 1 nutmeg, grated, 1/2 teaspoonful cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 2 eggs, beaten separately. Steam in well-greased baking powder cans with the lids on for 2 1/2 hours. If dry, dry for 15 minutes (removing the tops). Served cold it makes delicious sandwiches.

Theft of Watches, Papers, Reported

His left foot was crushed and his arm broken and he received possible internal injuries. He was first treated at the Mission Emergency hospital, and then transferred to San Francisco hospital.

Night Fire Routs Families From Bed

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—An alarm of fire early this morning in the residence of M. C. Welch, 2635 Twenty-first street, sent two families scurrying to the street in their pajamas. The blaze, caused by a defective gas stove, spread to the adjoining lot of J. Vonner, 2647 Twenty-first street. It was extinguished without serious damage.

PTS FOR AUTO DRIVERS URGED BY TRAFFIC MEN

Highway Officers to Ask Many Amendments to the Motor Vehicle Laws.

Any person applying for a driver's license should be made to undergo an examination as to his ability to operate an automobile and as to his knowledge of the state motor vehicle act.

At a meeting of the California Highway Patrolmen's association, L. A. Elko, Alameda county traffic officer, reported this decision among other suggestions to be made in the legislature by the traffic officers.

The state organization plans to submit a number of changes to the present motor vehicle act, principal of which is the ruling that operators of cars establish their right to drive before being granted their license.

Other proposed changes are: Any person violating any provision of Section 17, Motor Vehicle Act, while intoxicated, shall be guilty of an indictable misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment of not more than six months or a fine not to exceed $500, or both. That all trailers be required to be properly registered and to bear a manufacturer's serial number, or other means of identification in the form of numbers to be incorporated thereon by the Motor Vehicle Department; also to carry proper license plate illuminated as required in Section 13 of the Motor Vehicle Act.

Tail lights on all vehicles should be placed not more than twelve inches from the extreme left hand side of said vehicle.

Vehicles should be required to pull off the paved portion of any highway when stopping.

The carrying of luggage, trunks or other load, beyond the extreme rear of a vehicle, on any vehicle should be prohibited.

An amendment should be embodied in the motor vehicle act covering the flooding of highways.

Case Is Solved by Asylum Commitment

An admission by August Alexander that he had stolen a bolt of cloth from a tailor shop while a Berkeley policeman was watching him, was a principal cause of his being pronounced insane today by the Alameda county jury commission.

Alexander, a served overseas during the war under the name of "John Doe," had been a problem to the police for some time, having confessed to several burglaries. According to Compton, Alexander, a mentally unbalanced man, was a problem to the police for some time, having confessed to several burglaries. Has But One Child, So Leaves No Will

Because she had but a single child to inherit her $50,000 estate, Mrs. Margaret Sinclair Wise refused to make a will, declaring it unnecessary. Following her death in Berkeley on January 9, a thorough search of her papers failed to reveal such a document.

Today Superior Judge E. C. Robinson in the probate court granted letters of administration to Mrs. Sinclair's brother, Dr. E. E. Buteau and another brother, Dr. C. A. Buteau, who will administer the estate in her own behalf.

---a promise by the new furniture store

The formal announcement of our opening will be printed here in a few days. But before that comes we want to present as our advertising director whose advertisements you have been reading. Of course that is not his real name, but it will be a constant reminder to you that his job is to make your home cozy by showing you how much better you can buy at this store.

Read the advertisements that he will write. You will find them interesting, instructive. All of them will be signed by his name.

But as you read them remember that back of every word stands this store. It promises you that it will make good every claim that Mr. "Cozy" Homes makes for it.

One of the first things the Redlick Furniture Company did after it hired me was to join the Better Business Bureau, which sends for "Truth in Advertising."

Better Values, Better Terms and Service form the foundation upon which it will build a business here in Oakland.

Mothers' Clubs Open Drive for $50,000 Fund

The month of February has been named as endowment month by the California Federation of Mothers' Clubs and every member is asked to contribute twenty-five cents toward a fund, fixed by the committee at $50,000. The money will be used for organization purposes.

The federation also is planning a campaign to foster state industries and to stimulate interest in the output of California factories. Approximately 55,000 women allied with the federation will materially swell the influence in buying home products.

Mrs. H. A. Snow, wife of the explorer, was the guest of the Soroptimist Club at the weekly luncheon in the Hotel Oakland today. Mrs. Snow told of her experiences in her husband's exploration party in the wilds of Africa.

On Tuesday, February 7, the Soroptimist Club will hold a general business meeting at which plans for the Valentine party on February 14 will be outlined.

The Twentieth Century Club of Berkeley has also planned a luncheon for February 7. The chorus section of the club has set aside Tuesday, February 21, for its annual program.

The Town and Gown Club of Berkeley will hold its regular business meeting next Monday when nominating will be made for officers for the coming year.

"East Is East" is the subject of a lecture to be given by Mrs. Esther Birdsell Darling at the Mills Club, meeting at the College Wednesday afternoon.

Superior Judge George Samuel will tell the members of the Glenview Club his ideas of "Women as Judges" at a meeting to be held on Thursday, February 16. Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams also will speak on "The Conference at Washington."

Mrs. Katharine Phillips Edson and Mrs. Frank G. Law will be guests of honor at a luncheon to be given by the Berkeley Center of the California Civic League of Women Voters at the Hotel Whitecourt tomorrow at 1 o'clock.

Members of the Rookridge Woman's Club will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. Stockford, 6302 Florida street, tomorrow, to elect a nominating committee of three. At the general meeting of the club on February 7 four members will be added to this committee.

Showing its various educational activities throughout the county the Baby Hospital Clinic will hold an exhibit in the gymnasium of the clinic tomorrow afternoon.

S. A. Cunningham Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will hold a scholarship fund in the social hall of an apartment house at 1481 Alameda street tomorrow. Jerome Shaffer will present the program.

Mrs. J. E. Squires, of the Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs, will address the members of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the East Berkeley school on Wednesday next. Her subject will be the benefit to the school from a P. T. A.

The opening meeting of the Oakland Girls' Corner Club in its new home, 1741 Broadway, was marked with an attendance of almost 200 members, among them a great many high school teachers.

A dinner was served during the evening by the Kings' daughters of the First Presbyterian church.

The club is composed of business and professional girls and meets on every Tuesday evening.

EAST BAY WATER COMPANY MAKES ANNUAL REPORT

Edgerton Asks Firm to Prepare for Development of New Supplies.

A recommendation that the East Bay Water company take steps to place itself in a position to carry out investigation and development of a distant water source, when necessary, was made by Edwin O. Edgerton, president, in his report submitted at the annual meeting of stockholders today. The meeting was held in the company's offices, 512 Sixteenth street.

Edgerton's proposal was made because he claimed, cities of the East Bay district have taken no definite steps toward guaranteeing a water supply for the future. The possible source of the distant water supply was not specified.

On the question of future water supply, Edgerton said in his report: "The present developed water supplies of the company, with the estimated growth of the East Bay cities, will be sufficient for approximately nine years. With added to the water from the Leander Creek it will be possible to extend this period a few years."

"This development would practically exhaust all of the nearby supplies to the public, and it would then be necessary to have developed and brought into the East Bay cities a water supply from a distant source."

"The company has been, to date, no conclusion on the part of the public to develop and bring a water supply from a distant source, this company should put itself in the position adequately to meet its responsibility to the public for future water supply and be prepared to carry on investigations and development when necessary."

At the request of the cities the company has prepared and submitted to the cities and the Railroad Commission, a comprehensive plan for improvement of the distributing system, according to the report. This plan, if carried out, contemplates the expenditure of $2,050,000 over a period of two years and will satisfy the complaints heretofore made of inadequacy of service in emergencies such as fire.

Completion of the San Pablo dam and after plant and additions to the transmission and distributing system were the important improvement made during the year, the report sets forth. The San Pablo dam is 165 feet in height, affording a storage capacity of 1,000 million gallons. The filter plant was placed in operation last April and since that time has been filtering about 7,000,000 gallons of water daily.

NEW SERVICE PROVIDED. The Union Water Company last October added 4479 new services and will increase the net revenue of the company about $150,000 per year, the report states. The cost of this property was $1,100,000.

Operating expenses for 1921 exceed those of 1920 by $9380. While the cost of materials have decreased, this saving has been more than offset by the increase in the cost of the operation of the Union Water Company plant, according to the report. Normal increase in business and two months' revenue of the Union Water Company consumers increased the operating revenue for 1921 over 1920 by $120,040.12.

Plant and equipment assets on the last day of 1921 were $21,245,632.25, an increase of $1,642,862.82 for the year. This amount does not represent the value of the property which is several millions in excess of the figure named, according to the report.

AVERAGE SUPPLY.

The average daily supply of water was 21,993,000 gallons. Active services on the last day of the year were 82,107, including 4479 taps of the Union Water Company. The increase of taps during the year, not including the Union Water Company, was 51 per cent. During the year 18.14 miles of pipe were added to the distribution system, 113.4 were taken over by the Union Water Company, making a total of 1133.14 miles of pipe in the transmission and distribution system on the last day of the year.

A statement of revenue and expense for the calendar years of 1920 and 1921 follows:

	1920.	1921.
Gross operating rev.	$2,406,144.68	$2,526,184.80
Operating expenses	1,268,630.55	1,307,775.56
Net op. rev.	$1,137,514.13	$1,218,409.25
Non-operating income	20,820.82	28,961.28
Net rev.	$1,158,334.95	$1,247,370.53
Total interest chargeable to operation	738,984.81	813,733.46
	$ 419,350.14	$ 433,637.07

Alameda Postmaster At Farewell Fete

ALAMEDA, Jan. 30.—Tom Stoddard, postmaster of Alameda, was the guest of honor at a party given by the postoffice employees Saturday night, in Y. M. I. hall. Stoddard, who is retiring from the position, was presented with a handsome watch by the men who had served under him during the past eight years.

Stoddard is to be succeeded by H. M. Hammond just as soon as the commission for the latter arrives from Washington. Stoddard is going into the county clerk's office in Oakland. Stoddard is very well known in political and lodge circles in the East Bay district. Hammond has served as assistant postmaster in Alameda for the past 21 years.

News of the Churches

"The Success of Failure"

"The popular idol of today is success," said Rev. Clarence Reed of the First Unitarian church, in his sermon before the church on the subject of "The Success of Failure," yesterday morning. Continuing, he said:

At the present time there is nothing that succeeds more success. The people follow the crowd. There is a popular psychology of success which is being proclaimed everywhere, that is making rich some of its exponents. It is true that the crowd is a failure, but it will fail, and some people think that if they talk and think success they will certainly succeed.

One of the most harmful of the popular current platitudes is that "a man must live." The lives of the greatest prophets, martyrs, reformers and patriots of all ages are witnesses to the falsity of that statement. America won her freedom because her patriots were ready to die for the cause of freedom without representation."

It is often affirmed during an agitation against gambling, political corruption and other vices of society, that a man must live. A real man is not afraid to be in the minority and to suffer for his convictions. He will defy the crowd to do its worst. They may starve him to death or cast him into prison, but there is no external power that is able to make him surrender his ideals.

Making Sunday a Holiday Is Pagan

Continuing his series of sermons on "The People We Meet" at the First Presbyterian church, Dr. Frank M. Silsby spoke last night on the subject, "Meeting a Man With a Handicap." He said:

"There is a great many with physical handicaps today, not simply loss of limbs, but physical afflictions, and the call of the body is to use every reasonable means for the health of the body."

"The temple of the Holy Ghost, yet a great many people are indifferent to the messages of the body. One of the greatest handicaps characteristic of the modern generation is that of mental cruelty. Scarcely any group of men can be gotten together where one or more do not lose their heads."

"It is no wonder that Paul looked upon the carnal self as one of our greatest enemies, for lack of self control has produced war in the relations of life and the world. Even the best of men sometimes lose their heads, as to wit, Moses when he struck the rock with the rod, and when Paul refused to take John on a missionary journey. Another great handicap of today is materialism—the spirit which magnifies temporal things. The mistake of the rich young man was not that he had money but that he trusted in money, and it hurt him to let go for the sake of the poor or the unemployed."

Dances Attacked by Pastor

An attack on the dances, theatrical performances and literature of the present day and a demand that the state, its institutions and the public interfere formed part of the sermon of Dr. Charles L. Kloss, pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, from the subject: "The Shepherd Quality" yesterday. He said:

"The dancing, theatricals, which ten years ago we would have permitted in our homes or even in public. Many of the dances, some of the things in our theaters and the kind of literature with which we are being flooded are driving many to the way of death. Where is the shepherd who will rescue them by putting a stop to these things?"

"I know of one girl in Oakland who spends every night of her life in a dance hall. She is only one of a thousand who do the same. Read Irving Batchelor's arraignment of parents in the Outlook for their lack of authority over their children. Listen to the lament of our public school teachers on the way children are reared these days. It is time the church, the home, the school, the state awakened to the necessity for doing something for the protection of our youth."

"Thou Art the Man," Is Theme

In his sermon in the First Baptist church last night Dr. John Snaps, the pastor, spoke on the subject of "Thou Art the Man."

He said in part: "It is remarkable how indignant a sinner may become over another sinner's sin. So long as a modern preacher makes general application of his message and does not endorse his message. But let a modern Nathan point an accusing finger at one individual and say, 'Thou art the man,' the shift of emphasis makes a world of difference."

"David's sin was the sin of impure and unlawful desire of selfishness and of far-reaching effect. It was a sin against two families and the whole nation as well as a sin against himself and his people. No man liveth unto himself, and no man sinneth unto himself. It is not a sin to be tempted; it is a sin to harbor the temptation and yield to it. Eternal vigilance is the price of freedom for a sinner and the price of security for the individual."

Follow Christ, Pastor Urges

In his sermon last night in the Olivet Congregational church on "The Living Christ," Rev. Harold Govette, the pastor, said in part: "No adequate conception of God was ever conceived until Christ appeared in human flesh."

"Men have had worshipped a God he knew nothing of. But when Christ came and lived amongst men he revealed God, in all his words and actions, proving to man that God was a God of love."

"After Christ was crucified by wicked men he arose and ascended into heaven, but his Spirit came to live in the hearts and lives of men. St. Paul was so filled with the Spirit of Christ that he manifested him in all of his dealings with men, and exclaimed with joy, 'For me to live is Christ living.'"

"If we all lived the Christ life we now profess to be his followers, lots of the world's sorrow and trouble of the world would disappear and righteousness and happiness would prevail everywhere."

Conference to Take Up Wage Cut Plan

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—The Industrial Welfare Commission tomorrow will hold a conference to determine what steps will be taken in connection with the request of employers for a reduction of the wages for women in the industries of California. Announcement was made today by the secretary, Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson, that the board would consider the proposals of the committee of 26, representing employers and employees, which met last week. It is expected that hearings will be held in which each of the industries will have an opportunity to present evidence to the board.

Husband Loafs Too Much, Wife Charges

In a divorce complaint filed today, Mrs. Kate R. Hooven charged that her husband, Ira C. Hooven, formerly of Newport, Ky., was so shiftless that during eleven years of married life he neglected his wife and that after she inherited some money from her first husband's relatives, he refused to work at all. Mrs. Hooven said that she had to support the family while her husband loafed around the house annoying her with complaints.

SUPERVISORS TO O. K. SANITARIUM CONTRACT CHANGE

S. F. Proposals on Livermore Hospital Sanctioned by Alameda Board.

Following the regular meeting of the board of supervisors this morning, they went into session as a committee of the whole to discuss the changes in the contract which they are considering with the board of supervisors of San Francisco county for the construction of an addition to the sanitarium for the housing of 600 patients at a cost of $1,000,000. Fifty patients from San Francisco and ten patients from Alameda county are to be housed in the new addition with San Francisco county paying for the care of their patients at the rate of $2.87 a person until the end of the fiscal year, following the completion of the new structure. A new rate is to be agreed upon at that time.

Two important changes which have been asked for in the original contract by the San Francisco board are that the contract be made for 25 years instead of 5, and that the cost of the building be to be constructed with San Francisco capital, but by Alameda county architects and contracts, be refunded to San Francisco county in one year instead of three years, as originally stipulated. Both of these changes were agreed to by the Alameda county board, and it is expected that official action will be taken on the contract on next Monday.

Says Radio Company Is Seeking Monopoly

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Charges that the Radio Corporation of America was seeking to obtain a monopoly of press radio communication from the United States were made before a Senate committee by Joseph Pearson, secretary of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Testifying at hearings on the pending bill to extend for five years the authority of the navy department to handle press dispatches by radio, Pearson said the radio corporation had obtained a partial monopoly on the Atlantic coast and was seeking a monopoly on press radio business on the Pacific coast.

Brewer Funeral to Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services for Miss Anna Willard Brewer, who was killed in an automobile accident Friday, will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning from the residence, 770 Kingston avenue, Piedmont. The service will be conducted by Rev. F. J. Van Horn, pastor of the First Congregational church.

San Francisco News

TAXPAYERS SAID TO LOSE BY LAW INTERPRETATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Alleged misinterpretation of the law by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company is said to have lost several thousands of dollars to San Francisco taxpayers. This was stated in a report made by Bullock & Kellogg, certified public accountants, to the finance committee of the board of supervisors.

According to the report, the company is supposed to pay 2 per cent of its total receipts both on exchange and toll service, but has made certain deductions, which, in the opinion of the accountants, are not proper.

FUNERAL SERVICE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Arrangements are under way for the funeral of Edward J. Hunter, former sea captain and officer in the U. S. Navy, who was drowned near Hunter's Point yesterday. He was on his way to his ship in a small boat. The boat was capsized.

FINDS DEAD MAN, BUT NO CORONER, SO GUARDS BODY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Eugene Steiner, of 32 Minna street, discovered Julius Peterson, 55 years old, dead in bed in a room at 647 Vienna street last night. He had been accidentally asphyxiated, it is believed. Steiner made the long trip to the coroner's office and asked for a deputy. He was told that the deputy was out on a call. He returned, slept the night in the next room to where Peterson was lying and this morning journeyed again to the morgue and reported the case.

Eight San Leandro Men Put to Work

SAN LEANDRO, Jan. 30.—The drive to obtain work for San Leandro's unemployed men achieved its first definite results this morning when eight men were placed at work. Following a call from the Oakland Traction company five were taken to San Lorenzo by Marshall J. F. Peralta, to begin work on a section of the track. The work will last but for several days, but it is believed by that time the appeal to townspeople to place men at work in homes or gardens will have achieved results. Three men were placed at work this morning by local residents.

GRAND JURY LIST FOR 1922 DRAWN IN SANTA CLARA

Three Superior Judges Draw Panel; Majority On List Live in San Jose.

SAN JOSE, Jan. 30.—Numerous prominent citizens of San Jose and Santa Clara county are listed here today on the panel of names of those men and women from which will be drawn the names of the 18 people who will comprise the 1922 grand jury for this county, the list having been drawn and made public today by Superior Judges J. R. Welch, F. B. Brown and P. F. Gosbey.

The majority of those on the panel of prospective grand jurors are residents of this city, others being divided amongst the other cities of the county.

This list as given to THE TRIBUNE this morning by the Superior Court clerk was as follows:

W. L. Atkinson, present city councilman of San Jose; W. C. Bailey, former city manager here, now traveling in the Orient; Dr. J. B. Bullitt, Marie E. Bradley, P. O. Bonnett, W. F. Blake, Howard M. Buhner, Fred M. Stern, Alfred Seal, George D. Woreck, L. W. Wheeler, C. A. Wayland, Charles E. Warren, W. S. Young and L. E. Yates.

Many of those listed on the panel of prospective jurors are growers of prominence in this valley.

The 1921 grand jury is now in session and has practically completed its routine investigations, according to information obtainable, its report being due in the course of a week or so. Nothing in its sensational nature is anticipated in the findings of the jury, according to all information obtainable.

TIRE THIEVES JAILED.

Three young men today were sentenced to thirty days each in the city prison by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell for the theft of two automobile tires. They were arrested in Sacramento on the warrant sworn to by C. J. Lang of Los Angeles. The tires were stolen from his automobile which was parked at Fourteenth and Franklin streets. The men sentenced are Robert Russell, H. B. Smith and C. B. Conger.

S. F. NEWSPAPER'S LIBEL AGAINST OAKLAND REFUTED

Charge City Has Idle Money
and Has Quit Aiding Idle, Declared Untrue.

There is not $50,000 in idle money in the city treasury.

This was the gist of a statement issued today in answer to an announcement that the city with-drawing aid from the unemployed while a large sum of money remained in the treasury.

Harold D. Webster, secretary to Mayor John L. Davis, in a letter to The TRIBUNE gives the following account of the situation:

"A San Francisco morning paper today contains an item to the effect that with '$50,000 idle money, the city quits aid to idle men.'

This statement is apparently made to create the impression that the city of Oakland has idle money in the treasury. As a matter of fact there are no funds which have not been taken into consideration in connection with the municipal develop-ment program now under way.

"One of the most important items in this program is that of downtown street openings. For the Seventeenth street opening alone over $71,500 will be necessary to pay the city's share, and of this more than half must come from this $50,000 quoted as being 'idle money.' Other street openings such as Fifteenth street, E. Twelfth street and E. Fourteenth street, must be taken care of—and in the opinion of the 'commissioners' and a majority of the people this is work of vital importance in our municipal development. An appropriation was also made this morning as first payment upon the proposed mu-seum site for the city of Oakland, a project which has received the hearty support of the same paper quoted as saying these funds are idle.

"On the other hand, the city of Oakland has already appropriated $20,000 to be used in development work for the specific relief of the un-employed. I do not believe that any other city in the bay district, as a city, has done as much accordingly. It must be remembered also that these items were not included at the time that the city of Oakland's cur-rent fiscal year was being made up.

"In view of the foregoing, I feel that the impression, which the state-ment referred to would seem to cre-ate, is manifestly unfair to the of-ficials of this city, who have shown every willingness to deal with the un-employment situation to the best of their ability."

Autoists Collide; Fined $10 and $5

BERKELEY, Jan. 30.—As the re-sult of a triple automobile collision at San Pablo avenue and Bristol street yesterday afternoon, Charles B. Getz, 163 Eighth street, Oakland, was fined $10 and John Peters of 2309 King street was fined $5 by Judge Robert Edgar today.

Getz was going south on San Pablo avenue and crashed into the car driven by Peters, which was thrown into a car being driven by Mrs. Rosa Taylor of San Jose. Getz and Peters were arrested for speed-ing by Officer P. J. O'Keefe follow-ing the collision.

Louis Seldinayr, a garage owner of Richmond, was fined $10 for speeding.

C. A. G. Duffie, Berkeley busi-nessman of 515 Indian Rock avenue, was fined $10 for the same offense. Bench warrants were issued by Judge Edgar for Miss Anna Getz and F. W. Hogg of Fresno, who failed to appear in court this morning.

MOTHER ACCUSES SON OF STEALING HER AUTOMOBILE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—The spectacle of a mother insist-ing on the prosecution of her own son for stealing her automobile was witnessed today before Police Judge Lyle Jacks. Russell Schramm, 21 years old son of Mrs. Emma Schramm of 144 Geneva street, had been arrested in Santa Barbara with William McCallum and Edward Seale, charged with the theft of a $500 machine be-longing to his mother.

Today Mrs. Schramm appeared in court against her offspring. The magistrate inquired as to whether the young man had not previously been good and worked and been a credit to her. Mrs. Schramm re-plied that he had, but that never-theless he had taken her car and she thought should be punished. Judge Jacks had not alternative but to hold Schramm to answer to the Superior Court, but he dis-missed and Exonerated McCallum and Seale.

WOMAN SHOWS CLOCK, BRICK IN BATTERY CASE

Claud Anderson appeared today before Police Judge Tyrrell and entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of battery. This complain-ing witness, Sarah L. Mins of 1330 Kusa street, was in court, too.

When the case was called she walked up to Court Clerk Edwin Meese's desk and handed him a large package. From the bundle she unwrapped a large brick and a battered alarm clock.

"Four hours," said the com-plainant, "I was sitting in my bed when I saw the alarm clock and the brick landed on the back of my head."

"From the looks of your eyes something hit you," said Prosecut-ing Attorney William Hennessy.

The case will be tried tomorrow morning.

AUDITORIUM IS FILM WAR CENTER

A second attempt to reconcile the motion picture producers and exhib-itors of the bay cities with regard to exhibiting at the Oakland audi-torium, was made today in Commis-sioner of the city of Oakland, with motion picture men from both sides of the bay in attendance.

The Oakland picture house man-agers complain that the auditorium, a public building, is being allowed to compete with Oakland houses. The distributors, mostly from San Francisco, allege that the Oakland houses will not buy certain high-priced feature films, which can only be exhibited at the auditorium by speculators who must take the risk and are therefore entitled to the profits.

The Oakland managers assert that the auditorium is being used as an outlet by which the producers can keep up their high prices.

The distributors counter with the assertion that unless Oakland gets these pictures through the audi-torium, Oakland will not see them in the regular houses because the lat-ter will not pay what is required for a good film.

Meantime, the auditorium is closed to motion pictures until the war is over.

RUNGS FOR SUPERVISOR.

LIVINGSTON, Jan. 30.—Out of a mass of political rumors comes the only flat declaration so far, and in it Elgin Evans announces that he is out for the position of supervisor of this district in an effort to unseat Frank Pebley, incumbent. Evans is a pioneer resident of the Livingston section and is widely known as a grain and fruit grower. Pebley has held office several terms. Both are popular.

NOW IS TIME TO WORK PENCIL ON INCOME RETURNS

Tax Report Must Be Filed Before March 15; Instructions for Tax Given.

Collector of Internal Revenue John P. McLaughlin advises all in-come taxpayers to take out their pencil and pad and figure out their income for the year 1921. Do not depend on a bill or a profes-sion—guesses will not be accepted as a basis for taxation, said the collector.

Individual returns are required of every individual having a net in-come for the taxable year of $1000 or over, if single, or if married and not living with husband, or wife. Every individual having a net in-come for the taxable year of $2000 or over, if married and living with husband or wife, and every in-dividual having a gross income for the taxable year of $5000 or over, regardless of the amount of net in-come, must file an income tax re-turn.

If the husband and wife living to-gether have an aggregate net income for the taxable year of $2000 or over, or an aggregate gross income for such year of $5000 or over, then each shall make a return of income, or the income of each shall be included in a single joint return. In such case the tax shall be com-puted on the aggregate income.

In the case of a single person the personal exemption of $1000 is al-lowed, or in the case of the head of a family or a married person living with husband or wife, there is a personal exemption of $2000, unless the net income is in excess of $5000, in which case the personal exemption shall be $2000.

A husband and wife living to-gether shall have but one personal exemption. The amount of such personal exemption shall be $2000 unless the aggregate net income of husband or wife is in excess of $5000, in which case the personal exemption shall be $2000. If a husband and wife make separate re-turns then the personal exemption may be taken by either, or divided between them in no case shall the reduction of the personal ex-emption from $2500 to $2000 operate to in-crease the tax, which would be pay-able if the exemption was $2500 by more than the amount of the net income in excess of $2000.

If the taxpayer is unable to make out his or her return then the re-turn can be made out by a duly authorized and appointed agent, or by a guardian or other person charged with the care of the per-son and property of the taxpayer.

All returns must be in the hands of John P. McLaughlin, collector of Internal Revenue for the First Dis-trict of California, on or before Wednesday, March 15, the last day for filing income tax returns. The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing or in four equal install-ments; at least one-fourth of the tax must be paid by March 15.

S. F. Theft Suspects Nabbed in Hot Chase

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Two alleged robbers were captured by the police early today following a chase through the downtown dis-trict, in which three officers partici-pated and a dozen shots were fired.

Joseph Ferretti, 20 Midway street, was shot over the head. Eliza and Leavenworth streets and robbed by two men. He cried for help and Patrolmen Leo Marsh, Charles Ogden and Special Officer Bush ap-proached. The footpads fled, snatching as they ran a package from the witness stand in Superior Judge Quinn's court today by Dr. Arthur Hieronymus, Alameda health officer. Dr. Hieronymus, who is suing Navlet for a hospital bill, de-clared that he was treating an accident in which six-year-old Frank Navlet was injured by Navlet's automobile. Navlet ordered the child sent to the Alameda sanitarium at his expense. After the expense had been in-volved, Dr. Hieronymus declared, Navlet refused to pay. Although Navlet asserts he did not make the promise, Dr. Hieronymus declared today that he did not refuse to pay until his attorney had told him he was not responsible for the boy's in-juries. He is suing Navlet for $75, which, he says, is half the original bill.

Man Is Sued for Injury to Youth

The charge that Charles D. Navlet, proprietor of a wholesale coffee house at 430 Tenth street, tried to back out of a verbal contract after consulting his attorney, was made from the witness stand in Superior Judge Quinn's court today by Dr. Arthur Hieronymus, Alameda health officer. Dr. Hieronymus, who is suing Navlet for a hospital bill, de-clared that he was treating an accident in which six-year-old Frank Navlet was injured by Navlet's automobile. Navlet ordered the child sent to the Alameda sanitarium at his expense. After the expense had been in-volved, Dr. Hieronymus declared, Navlet refused to pay. Two Dismissed in Auto Theft Case

Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell to-day dismissed the charge of stealing an automobile against Thomas Atcheson and James Manley. A similar charge against Roy Taylor was continued until tomorrow. The three men were arrested January 17 by Sergeant E. W. Brock and Police-man Clarence Anderson at Eleventh and Franklin streets. The automo-bile in which they were in belonged to M. B. Hall. Taylor is also charged with carrying a concealed weapon. He will be sentenced tomorrow.

RELEASED ON BAIL.

GUSTINE, Jan. 30.—M. Medeiros of this place, charged with passing worthless checks, is at liberty on $2000 bonds. C. F. Silveria and J. B. Garcia of Gustine are the complain-ing witnesses. Justice of the Peace Farrar of Merced fixed the bond on each charge at $100. No date has been set for the hearing. Medeiros is ranching in this section.

INDIAN WOMAN, 125; DEAD; LEFT SON WHO IS 80

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEADER WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 30.—Mrs. Mojoch Mologan, Indian, said to be 125 years old, died on the Washakie reservation, near Logan, Utah, several days ago, ac-cording to word received here. The woman, who said, was middle-aged when Brigham Young led his Mormon emigrants into the Salt Lake valley in 1847.

A son, said to be 80 years old, survives, according to the Washakie reservation correspondent.

JACKSON CHOSEN ON CHARITY WORK

Charles A. Jackson today was recommended by the board of super-visors as a member of a committee of five which will confer with and make recommendations to the Alameda County Welfare Council toward better administration of the three pension funds provided by the coun-ty. The action was taken at the request of the County Welfare Council.

The Welfare Council investigated and supervises cases requiring state and county aid as orphans or half-orphans, as children of incapacitated fathers and through blindness, and is working in co-operation with the State Board of Charities, and the committee appointed is intended to give closer relations with the state board. The committee is composed of Miss Wead of the state board, Mrs. A. A. Neal, Mrs. Beulah Spunn, Miss Elizabeth Skeel and Jackson.

Acting on recommendation of the Associated Charities the board of supervisors agreed to appoint Mrs. Arthur Hand and three children with transportation to Hawaii. The father is in the veterans' home at Yountville, and the family has been a charge on the county for the past year. Mrs. Hand's mother will provide a home for them in Hawaii.

The board also voted to reimburse the Alameda Social Service Board for $72.15 spent in sending William Coughenour, his wife and child back to their home in Denver.

Fleishacker Seeks Muscle Shoals Facts

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Herbert Fleishacker of the Anglo-London and Paris Bank and Wil-liam N. Humphrey, the attorney, left here today for Washington, D. C., for a conference with Secretary of War Weeks in regard to the Muscle Shoals Project.

Two San Francisco men are representing the North American Construction Company, composed of San Francisco financiers, which has put in a bid for the hundred million dollar plant erected at Muscle Shoals by the government for the production of nitrates.

According to Fleishacker, the purpose of the conference is to deter-mine whether or not the American Construction Company is prepared to continue with the production of nitrates. It is understood that Henry Ford, the other bidder, refused to adhere to this policy.

The government desires the pro-duction of nitrates to continue in or-der that fertilizer may be supplied to the agriculturists.

Manila-to-Shanghai Cable Line Broken

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEADER WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—The Postal Telegraph-Cable company's cable between Manila and Shanghai has been broken, cutting off direct cable communication from San Francisco to China and the Dutch East Indies. It was reported today by San Francisco. Messages thus halted will be sent by the Atlantic cables, it was stated.

Deserted at Altar, Man Gets Freedom

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—De-claring that his wife married him at 3 o'clock in the morning only for the novelty of the wedding ceremony and refused to occupy the home he had prepared for her, returning to her mother, Harry Black of 310 Buchanan street, a marine fireman, ob-tained an annulment of his marriage today to C. O. Canance Black. He had only known her six days when the wedding was performed.

Snow Delays Trip To Be Honor Guest

H. A. Snow, the African hunter, will speak at the Athenian-Nile club Wednesday night at an African beef-steak dinner to be given in his honor by the members of the club.

Snow had planned to leave for New York today, but postponed his trip until Thursday in order to ful-fill his engagement at the club.

Checks and Cash Taken by Burglars

Holmes Johnson, proprietor of a wholesale candy manufacturing plant at 2347 San Pablo avenue, reported to the police today that the prem-ises were entered by burglars Satur-day night and $2000 in checks and $200 in cash taken. He said the in-truders forced their way through a rear door.

RETRIAL SOUGHT FOR BRADFORD IN BAD CHECK CASE

New Evidence and Claims of Incompetent Testimony
Basis of Plea.

Newly discovered evidence and claims of incompetency of certain testimony introduced by the prosecu-tion, will be made the basis today of a motion for a new trial for Robert L. Bradford, broker and so-cial figure, convicted last week of passing a fictitious check for $10,000. Bradford will appear for sentence tomorrow at 2 o'clock before Su-perior Judge Quinn.

According to Richard M. Lyman Jr., attorney for Bradford, the court erred during Bradford's trial in ad-mitting the testimony of E. D. Both-well, assistant cashier of the Central National Bank, to the effect that Bradford had deposited with his bank a $10,000 check which was worthless on account of insufficient funds. Lyman will argue, he said today, that this testimony was in-competent in Bradford's case, inas-much as the crime with which he was charged was that of passing a check which was not a bank check.

An appeal will be taken to the district court in the event that Su-perior Judge Quinn refuses the mo-tion for a new trial, Lyman asserted. Bradford's conviction was upon the charge of giving William Can-plier company, Oakland stockbrokers, a fictitious check for $10,000 in pay-ment for Liberty bonds.

Berkeley Motor Car Wrecked at Capital

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 30.—An auto belonging to the housewife of Beatrice Bagley, 2713 San Pablo, Oakland, crashed into Capital Park at 2 a. m. today and was deserted immediately by its two occupants.

One wheel of the car and the three tires and rims of the other three wheels were torn off. The car passed between two telephone poles and skidded 50 feet over the snow covered lawn of the park. Search is being made for the occupants of the car.

It was learned here today that the machine was formerly the property of Mrs. Beatrice Bagley, local mil-liner. Mrs. Bagley turned the ma-chine over to her husband, William H. Bagley, following their separation some time ago. Bagley, according to Mrs. Bagley, left Oakland last Wed-nesday in the machine. He is be-lieved to have gone to Sacramento to visit relatives.

Auto Company Sued For $25,000 Damages

Isabel Whitaker, of 1227 Bonita avenue, Berkeley, started suit in Superior Judge St. Sur's court today for $25,000 damages against the Weaver-Wells Company, automobile dealers, of 2221 Broadway.

Miss Whitaker asserts that while she was riding on the rear seat of a motorcycle driven by R. G. Vogler, in October, 1920, the machine was struck at Forty-second and Webster streets by an auto truck with which two employees of the Weaver-Wells Company were loading another car. The employees, whom she also names as defendants, were Frank Blakie and Andy Cortez. The young woman received fractures of the hip and the left arm and leg.

PLUMBER EXPERT TO SPEAK.
E. W. Archer, of the trade exten-sion bureau of the master plumbers' association, will address the mem-bers - the local association, at a meeting to be held in their hall at 1414 Thirteenth street on next Mon-day evening.

Fashions today are more becom-ing and make the woman of 30 look younger than she did 10 years ago.

AUTO THEFT CHARGED.
Charles Mreba and John Pear-burn were today charged with at-tempting to steal an automobile be-longing to W. J. Denmore, of 1515 Pacific avenue, Alameda.

"Off the Hook"

When your telephone is accidentally left "off the hook," the operator first answers as she would if you were placing a call. After repeated efforts, receiving no response, she reports your line as "out of order." It is then disconnected from the regular switchboard and placed on a special board where it awaits the attention of the repairing forces.

All this takes time. It involves tests, reports and generally a trip to the location of the trouble.

In the meantime, what happens?

Others have been unable to reach you by telephone.

Even if the mistake has been discovered and your telephone placed on the hook, service may not be restored until the "troubleman's" final O. K.

On a party line all other telephones on the line are deprived of both incoming and outgoing service for the same period of investigation and repair.

"Off the hook" is a most common cause of interruption to telephone service. By the exercise of care in this connection you will protect your service and avoid inconvenience to yourself and others.

DEMPSEY-CARPENTER FIGHT IN LONDON IS BEING SMOKED UP

PLAY IN TRIBUNE LEAGUE IS SUSPENDED WHILE JOE BUSHERS HEAVE SNOWBALLS AROUND

KEARNS WOULD LIKE TO HAVE RICKARD STAGE THE FIGHT IN ENGLAND

Bill Brady Gets in Wr ong With the Champ by Backing Out of Jerse y City Bout Last Year

By BOB SHAND.

Between now and the Fourth of July publicity agents for geuts with something that needs advertising and secretaries of chambers of commerce will get in some deadly work on the sport pages, and every once in a while one of them can be expected to break into pug nose. It happens every year, and this snowy season promises to be no exception. The motif is a heavyweight championship battle, featuring the well-known actor J. Harrison Dempsey. During the next few months Oskogoo, Wis., and Lalapalooza, Kan., can be expected to step to the front with million-dollar purses and things, and a flock of individual promoters will do their darndest to outbid the progressive hamlets. And while the boys are doing their stuff and kidding some people, the Hon. J. Kearns, business manager for Mr. Dempsey will be doing business with T. Rickard at the same old stand, and Mr. Dempsey will, in all probability, box under the auspices of Mr. Rickard on the glorious Fourth.

They are cooking up a Carpenter-Dempsey bout already, and in a few weeks something tangible may be done. They want Georges to knock over a few more Cooks or dishwashers—any big fellow who will take a clout on the chin will do. The great Georges will have rebuilt his reputation as a knocker-out and the Europeans will go crazy over him again. The gorgeous Georges is a row of dubs once and got $200,000, less war tax, for taking one on the nose from J. Harrison, and he will do it once again, and he will do it again, and much more easily when it is done on some other continent. He will get a peak at the American, and by the fourth they will be fed so much Carpe boost stuff that they will believe it. It is not customary to stage big events on the Fourth in Europe, but the match will be held some time in July, as far as Dempsey is concerned he could step into the ring tomorrow and knock out a bunch of Cooks or dishwashers or any other aspirant heavyweights, but there will be the usual publicity about the training, bunk and all the usual preliminaries. These are all for publicity purposes.

Kearns Wants Rickard To Promote Fight.

Kearns tipped off his hand Saturday when he mentioned Rickard's name in connection with the London proposition. Tex and Jack are very thick, and naturally Kearns would like to have Rickard stage the fight. Jack does not care to take a chance with an unknown promoter, and at the same time he has a feeling that something Rickard's way. If the American public would stand for a repetition of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight, Rickard would be pulled out by Rickard at Mr. Boyle's famous Thirty Acres in Jersey City, but the champion at present who would be conceded a chance of coping the crown.

There is a talk in the ring in with a Willis-Dempsey bout, but he might as well suggest Floyd Johnson or George Gibson. The little promoter who is being kicked by second raters of his own race, and would prove but a mouthful for Dempsey, would not be able to do it. He is about as good a fighter as Bill Brennan or Billy Wells, but he is not a credit to the game, and there is no sport in these United States where a heavyweight championship "mixer" is a thing. The Jeffries-Johnson affair should be borne in mind when a Willis-Dempsey bout is talked of. The Jeffries fight was a disaster from the Reno affair. While in Oakland recently, Kearns told the writer that he had a feeling that the Dempsey-Carpenter fight would be a disaster, and that he was looking for some publicity, and sneered at his offer. The Brady and Bill was that one of the original promoters of the Carpenter fight, but backed out when the going looked tough. Cochrane the London promoter was also interested, took a powder at the same time, leaving Rickard to hold the sack.

Brady Backed Down On Big Bout Last Year.

As far as Brady's chatter goes about promoting a fight with Dempsey as one of the principals, poor Bill is not even making a whisper. Dempsey has been looking for some publicity, and sneered at his offer. The Brady and Bill was that one of the original promoters of the Carpenter fight, but backed out when the going looked tough. Cochrane the London promoter was also interested, took a powder at the same time, leaving Rickard to hold the sack.

Wednesday's Card Here Is An All-Star Affair.

Tommy Simpson's battlers are ready for the doings at the Auditorium Wednesday evening. The little promoter stated to the morning that, while the card lacked celebrities, the boys suggested should provide plenty of thrills. It is the preliminary boys most of the customers want to see anyhow, as the main eventers around the city are being handled by Jack Downey. The other performers are well known.

The entries for this tournament close February 14th and play will start on or about February 15th.

Hunter, Loos Will Play Golf Championship

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Jim Hunter and Jack Hutchinson, respectively American and British open 17 champions, will play Dr. Paul Hunter, state amateur champion, and Eddie Loos, former state open champion, at the Annandale Country Club near here tomorrow. Only member, and guests will be permitted to watch the match, which will be over 28 holes. Hunter and Loos defeated Barnes and Hutchinson 2 and 2 in a 36-hole match Saturday at the Pasadena Golf Club.

Class B Champs To Start Big Series Sunday

Alameda West End Merchants Will Tangle With Western Electric.

By MAURY PESSANO.

The little Joe Bushers of the Class B division of the Oakland TRIBUNE Midwinter League are looking for the man who predicted that Old Sid would be on the job yesterday. That weather forecaster got himself in dutch with the junior boys who were flouting on another banner day yesterday. Jupiter plusius, who has lost every little bushers as a friend, was on the job with a smile, and stopped long enough to put the damper on all rambling talk in the Class B league. The program arranged for the B boys was one of the best since the opening of the league with a big feature game billed at the Hayward High school grounds. With the postponement of the Hayward-Twenty-third Avenue game it will be necessary to schedule these two teams for next Sunday at the Hayward grounds. Had they headed west yesterday day a great many of the fans would now be able to figure the dope for the post-season series.

Next Sunday's bill of fare in the Class B league will be about the best since the start of the second half of the pennant race. Not only will there be regular league games, but the first game between the Champions of the Western and Eastern divisions will take place. The Alameda West End Merchants hailed as the Champs of the Eastern League tackle the Western Electric. Each club has but one game in the league and appear to be well matched. The work of the Alameda West End Merchants is wonderful. Their fighting spirit in the final innings of their games won them many games. A few times during the season they romped home with a victory by staging ninth-inning rallies.

Pete Starasiech, captain and first sacker, for the Oakland Natives, champions of the National division of the Oakland TRIBUNE Class A League, has proven a very valuable man to the team. Pete is about the class of the league. He is a native of the United States, and has helped the Natives to victory by his hitting. He is a fine player, and has been playing of the post-season series with the National division Champions promises to be one of the features.

"Franchise" Bagalis, infielder for the Rialson Bakers in the Class B League, is the same boy that tried to get short on the St. Mary's College nine. Franchise failed to grab a regular job with the collegians, but made a big hit with the Rialson Bakers, and Harrington worked at short in practice against Bagalis. The job went to Harrington, and Bagalis is a fine fielder, and is doing some fine work with the stick and in the field. Bagalis' work in the TRIBUNE League has been outstanding. He is a native of the United States, and has been playing of the post-season series with the National division Champions promises to be one of the features.

Tommy Hennessey, manager of the K. U. Club in the California division of the Junior League, was very successful in his work. He is a native of the United States, and has been playing of the post-season series with the National division Champions promises to be one of the features.

Twenty-two Games On Island City Hi. Baseball Schedule

The following is a schedule of games to be played by the Alameda high school baseball team, twenty-two games in all, one of the largest schedules of combats to be arranged by any school around the Eastbay. The first encounter is scheduled for February 20th with the "Dummies" from Lincoln, while a series of three games is on the program with the Alameda. It will be noticed that games are scheduled with all the schools in the O. A. L. with the exception of Oakland High. The Blue and White held the Alameda game being called at the end of the seventh inning on account of darkness. Coach Kittlep expects the second game to be a close one, and the regulation nine innings, ten.

Coach Leader Cuts Crew to Three Boats

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 29.—Coach Ed Leader of the University of Washington crew has cut loose all the deadwood in his varsity and frosh camps and will get his men down to strict training basis by next week. The coach has three full boats of varsity candidates left since the cut, and there are very few left. He is equally well provided with prospective yearlings. The race with the University of California eight is the big event so far scheduled. The regatta will take place on Lake Washington here on April 22.

Babb, Aggie Hurler, Signed by Seattle

CORVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 30.—Bert Babb, 1922 baseball captain-elect at Oregon Agricultural College and first string pitcher on last year's nine, has been signed by Jimmy Richardson, business manager of the Seattle baseball club to play for that team. Babb will not report to Seattle until next June, after the spring term. He was one of the leading hitters in the northwest baseball conference last year.

WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS

Here are the boys who battled their way to the championship of The Oakland TRIBUNE Class B Midwinter League and who will next Sunday play the first game in the Class B "World Series" by meeting the Alameda West End Merchants, champions of the Eastern Division. The Westerns are one of the hardest hitting and best fielding amateur teams ever organized in the bay district.

BASKETBALL

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 30.—As a result of the second victory of the University of Washington over the California Bears here Saturday night by a score of 8 to 22 the Sun Dodgers now head the Conference by a wide margin. Having won eight and lost none, the Sun Dodgers made a clean sweep of four games against the University of Oregon and took two straight from the Oregon Aggies and California. The only chance the local institution now has of losing Conference honors is to go down to defeat at the hands of the University of Idaho, also undefeated, the Vandals having won four straight. Washington and Idaho meet February 15 and 16 at Moscow.

Six games remain on the Sun Dodger schedule, two with Washington State here on February 2 and 3, the Idaho series and a return series with the Oregon Aggies here February 24 and 25.

The revised standings of the Coast Conference to date follow:

Team	Won	Lost
Washington	8	0
Idaho	4	0
Stanford	2	2
Oregon	1	2
California	1	2
Washington State	1	2
Oregon State	0	6

SAN JOSE, Jan. 30.—The University of California defeated the local Stanford team here Saturday night by a score of 12 to 10. The Cardinal Babes displayed better teamwork than in previous times since the start of the season when Oliva and Hooper were the outstanding stars for the first year Stanford team.

Happy Kuehn, one of the champions of the Idaho basketball team, is a native of the United States, and has been playing of the post-season series with the National division Champions promises to be one of the features.

PULLMAN, Wash., Jan. 30.—The University of Idaho basketball team took the second of a two-game series from Washington State College, 15 to 10, here Saturday night. Idaho held the lead from the start, and the Washington State College freshmen basketball team defeated the local team by a score of 14 to 10.

Idaho's ability to shoot goals in the charity game made the victory possible. Close guarding on both sides, resulting in numerous fouls and a high percentage of free throws.

Summary and lineup:
Wash. State..... Pos. Idaho
Friedel..... Forward..... A. Fox
Sorenson..... Center..... Thompson
Burke..... Guard..... Spradley
Friedel..... Guard..... Spoon
Togo..... Guard..... Wagner

University High's unlimited basketball team was bowled over by the California Freshmen by a score of 35 to 10 at Harmon Gym. The Freshmen showed decided improvement over their previous appearances and had the smaller lads under cover at all periods of the game. The score at half time was 24-2.

Y. M. C. A. Declines To Join A. O. Assn.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The Y. M. C. A. has declined an invitation to join the American Olympic Association. In a letter to Frederick W. Ruben, secretary of the American Olympic committee, Dr. John Brown of the Y. M. C. A. declared that the constitution and by-laws of the Olympic Association did not insure the democratic form of administration believed essential to the best interests of amateur athletics in the United States.

After a year's absence from inter-collegiate athletics, Jack Merchant the Blue and Gold strong man, is back on the job with Walt Christie's track team. Merchant is regarded as a certain point winner in the hammer throw, javelin and broad jump and may be used in the 160-yard dash.

Joe Bushers Spend Sunday Snowballing

Big Games Scheduled for Yesterday Will Take Place Next Sunday.

The fine big program of bush games which the Little Joe Bushers of the Oakland TRIBUNE Midwinter League had all set to treat the fans to yesterday was knocked for a goal when Old Jupiter Plusius appeared on the scene early Saturday evening and was followed into town yesterday by Mr. Snowflakes, the gentleman who hadn't been here for years. Instead of heaving baseballs around the town square, the fans were out in the hills heaving snowballs, and although they all regretted that the season had to be postponed, they all had a wonderful time. Wherever they went, they were met by a hail of snowballs, while snowballing, such as yesterday, sometimes comes but once in a lifetime. They were satisfied to have their program knocked on the head.

The snowflakes which were put on the scene yesterday will probably take place next Sunday, with the Poplar Canby and Alameda Merchants again being the attraction. Had the games been played yesterday the biggest crowd of fans to attend a single game would have been on hand. But they will get a chance to break all records next Sunday when the weather is in the mood to permit. The Hayward Natives and Twenty-third Avenue Merchants will battle at the last of the season. The Sun Dodgers will be the Hayward Natives will tie the Niles Victory Natives in the race for the California championship. The Telegraph Avenue Merchants will probably play two games in order to see whether they can hold their own if they can tie the Motor boys.

The first big game in the Class B championship post-season series will be a battle between the Alameda West End Merchants and Western Electric Nines, at either the Coast League or Washington Park diamonds.

John McGraw Says He Has Too Many Good Pill Busters

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—John McGraw, leader of the world champion Giants, has gathered a great squad of good pill busters. He is beset with a worry that never bothered him before he parted with George Burns. "Fox," said McGraw, before he left for a severe days ago, "yes, tell me who'll I use for a lead-off man. I've got plenty of hard hitters, but I want to use 'em in the clean-up spots. Groh has leadoff experience, but when he gets to a ball game, he seldom misses. I need him at bat when men are on the bases."

McGraw said he thought Frisch, a first or fourth sacker, and that Young was always good somewhere around the clean-up position. Leaving Bancroft as a possible lead-off man, for Meusel and Kelly are not being considered, and the Giant leader doesn't want to take a chance on any of the new men.

So it's a toss-up between Groh and Bancroft.

Boxing Notes

ALGODONES, Lower California, Jan. 30.—Lee Morrissey of Idaho Falls, Idaho, won from Chet Neff of Seattle on a foul leg and of the fifteenth round of their scheduled 20-round bout here yesterday for the American-Mexican border 126-pound championship.

Before awarding the decision to Morrissey, Referee Walter Kane had repeatedly warned Neff, who had matched to meet Morrissey but two days ago notified the promoters he could not keep the agreement. It was said, so Neff was substituted for him.

SPORTING GOULASH GOLF

By Bob Shand

THE CRIME WAVE.
Never before in the history of our fair city were so many snow birds seen in action as yesterday. In Piedmont it was worse. On the Skyline boulevard conditions were unspeakable. Men, women and even innocent children sniffling and sneezing without exception they got a wonderful kick out of it.

This snow stuff would be perfectly lovely did it occur more frequently. Yesterday it was new stuff to the youth of the city and it could distinguish the difference between the chunk of frozen snow and a nice clean snowball. The gentle snow in the neck distinguished the difference very readily.

The following exclusive picture was made in the hills back of Piedmont where the snowfall was heaviest.

Note the snow on the ground and in the air. The background was obliterated by the white flakes and the snow on the ground was covered under their snowy mantle that they cannot be seen. The picture is one of the rarest ever made and will be hung in Tommy Stinson's West Oakland gymnasium.

Full crews were at work in auto repair shops today for the first time this winter. Busted windshield.

Snow was falling at Sequoyia yesterday, but fortunately many of the first round matches for the Julius Young shield had been decided on Saturday. J. J. Valentine and F. I. Dettman, however, played all through the snow storm. Dettman, who received three holes up handicap, romped away with a 5-3 snow victory. E. J. Hadden and J. R. Buck postponed their match till Wednesday. Claude Barton and J. M. Gordon have also mutually agreed to leave the decision to some day this week. Dr. C. H. Walter, starting Lee Duxham ten holes up, finally won on the 18th green 1 up. Only by playing perfect golf could such a handicap be overcome. Most players would have been discouraged by the snow, but Dr. Walter has trained himself to concentrate on his own game entirely. He knows with 2 up, held on to his handicap advantage and finally won on the 18th green against Arthur Criswell (10). A. C. R. Graham, Wm. Webber and Dr. H. G. Meek also went to the last hole to win their matches. Dettman, Duxham and Meek represent good handicapping.

Jack Miller was the only player to win at the 17th 2 up. The 15 won a postscript finishing point. M. R. Johnson, Jay B. Nash and Dr. J. H. Stineham clinched their matches. E. J. Hadden, receiving 1 up, had one of his holes, and romped away from H. W. Edelen 5 up and 4 to go. Two weird figures dressed in rubber boots and several extra sweaters were seen at several points on the golf course playing their second round. Dismissed beyond recognition, one of the players said he had won 7-6, but the report will have to be delayed until his identity is discovered. The detailed results are as follows:

Dr. C. H. Walter (0) defeated L. Duxham (10). A. C. R. Graham (0) defeated A. F. Criswell (1). J. J. Valentine (0) defeated Wm. Taylor (1). Dr. H. G. Meek (4) defeated Rev. Dr. C. H. Walter (0). C. EASTBAY HOOP TEAMS FINISH FIRST WEEK; FAST GAMES COMING

Playing Schedule Revised for Present Week to Include Postponed Games.

By DOUG MONTELL
The first week of play in the Eastbay Basketball League ended Saturday after having produced keen competition between the teams in all divisions. Particularly was the play in Divisions I and II of the unlimited league of a high class, and judging from the results of the first round basketball followers may expect to see some scrappy exhibitions of the indoor sport during the coming week when many of the powerful teams are brought together. Due to the delay in accepting the new Fremont High School gymnasium, it was necessary to postpone games in the weight divisions, the unlimited and 120-pound divisions being the only one to play all games as booked. This will but necessitate a slight rearrangement of the schedule to work in the three games that were postponed during the past week.

To do this Secretary R. W. Robertson yesterday issued a revised schedule for the second week, which appears herewith. None of the games scheduled were changed in the unlimited division or in the 120-pound league. The postponed Telegraph Avenue and Alameda Presbyterian game in the 130-pound division will be played tonight at the Oakland Armory. The game between the Alameda Presbyterian and the Alameda Presbyterian game, postponed from the Armory that night, will be played tomorrow night at the Alameda Presbyterian gymnasium. The 145-pound game will be played Wednesday night at Oakland High. The 150-pound game will be played Wednesday night at Oakland High. The 160-pound game will be played Wednesday night at Oakland High. The 170-pound game will be played Wednesday night at Oakland High. The 180-pound game will be played Wednesday night at Oakland High. The 190-pound game will be played Wednesday night at Oakland High. The 200-pound game will be played Wednesday night at Oakland High.

Weight Teams Furnish Action.
In the weight division there will also be great interest. The Academy team of San Francisco in the 120-pound division, will settle the Alameda Presbyterian game early, their game coming Wednesday night at Oakland Y. M. C. A. both winners will put up one of the best arguments of the week the same evening. The Alameda Presbyterian team, reputed to be the crack organization of the 145-pound league, start play tomorrow night against the Alameda Presbyterian team. Paddock Is Done—This Should End It
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—The decision of Charles W. Paddock, "the fastest human," not to run this season, as he has completed his tour of the University of Southern California, has given his fellow athletes among the Trojans "Cladath Blues." The absence of Paddock seriously cripples the Trojan team. As for Paddock he says he will be his future sport, but that he will turn his attention otherwise to newspaper work.

Excellent Contests On for This Week
Some excellent contests are scheduled during the coming week that promise to furnish the fans with the entertainment that could be desired. In division I of the unlimited league, the Sochi Omnes team, at present held by the lead, meets Company C of the 159th Infantry at Tech tomorrow night at Tech. California Frosh Meet Commerce High
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Jan. 20.—The California Freshmen are to play the San Francisco High school of Commerce on the court at Farmington tomorrow evening. The Blue and Gold Club basketball team is rapidly rounding into form and Coach Price expects to have his team ready to take the series from the Stanford first year men in the middle of February.

DEL MONTE COLTS WIN.
DEL MONTE, Cal., Jan. 30.—The Del Monte-Midwest team defeated the San Jose-Santa Clara polo team 3 to 6 here today in the senior event of the first sanctioned tournament of the American polo season. The match was played on a rain soaked field and rain fell throughout the match was fast and hard fought.

Technical, Oak. High Fives Are The Favorites

Fremont Hoopers Failed to Show Expected Form in Practice Games.

By MARTIN ROTKE.
Basketball practice is in full swing in the gymnasiums of the five schools represented by the O. L. and each one of the five is hopeful of coming through with the gonfalon at the end of the season. The coaches will probably announce the regular lineups in another week, and then the real practice will be on. The schools, with the second team of the schools battling against the first-stringers, are again expected to come out the winners. But Coach Street's lads have made a rather poor showing in the practice games, the strongest quarter in the league, but schools having shown up very strong in their pre-season contests. Fremont's poor showing in their practice games has been blamed upon the lack of a sufficient court in which to practice. The new gymnasium has just been completed, and before that time the fellows were forced to do their training outdoors, and the weather interfered a number of times. Maybe now, with the new gym completed, Street's boys will take on new life and surprise the wisecracks by romping off with the balance of their practice games, and by making a fine showing in the league encounters.

OAKLAND VS. STANFORD.
Tech and Oakland have made good appearances in the games thus far and are expected to battle it out for the flag. The Broadway boys hold the lead in the casual games, but Frosh, but made a poor showing against the Lowell High team from across the bay, while the Blue and White did exactly the opposite, beating the Lowellites and losing to the Freshmen. Fremont also holds a victory over the Lowell quintet, defeating the transbay team in the first game of the season in the newly-completed gymnasium. The leading schools—Oakland, Fremont and Tech—scheduled combats with the Stanford Frosh, the latter team having beaten Palo Alto last Friday. The Boulevard boys were defeated by a 37-to-11 score, while the Techites made a better appearance, coming out on the short end of a 27-to-11 tally. Oakland High is scheduled for their Stanford fray next Saturday, so after the game is over the dopesters will be able to compare the relative strength of the two teams.

VOCATIONAL DARK HORSE.
Vocational high, as last year, is dubbed upon as the "dark horse" quintet of the league, and according to their showing to date the Market street lads may come through with the same surprise they pulled off in the football season. The Market street school held the St. Mary's lads to a 15-to-6 score, while Fremont was swamped by the Saints to the tune of 37 to 19, showing that the boys are figuring out the probable winners in the casual games. Vocational is coming along strong in athletics, and the Mechanics school is confident of making a fine showing in basketball and also baseball.

OAKLAND WELL SUPPLIED.
Oakland has a number of youngsters well trained in the art of the hoop sport, and the funny part of it all is that the fact that the second-stringers are just as strong as the first-stringers, making it difficult for the coaches to select the right men. Coach Street's lads, who have been easily romped off with all those laurels all the schools predicting victories and each one of the coaches proclaiming his team as the one to be the top seed in the O. L. A. E. would love to be the closest and best played of any put on display by the five institutions representing the league.

Three matches on the allers are scheduled for tonight in the local N. S. G. V. bowling league. The league is now in its fourth week, and the tournament allies once more, this time to hook up with Brooklyn. Alameda is counting on making 148 to 150. Newman is expected to make 140 to 145. The local Philadelphia Shoe team is booked to entertain the Academy team of San Francisco in the Class C league of the San Francisco and Suburban bowling league on the Auditorium alleys Friday night, while the Palo Alto team of San Francisco is to meet the S. F. club.

The Hat Kings will swap spurs and strikes with the Fort McDowell teams tonight at the Auditorium while the Sunbeam Wafflers are playing the Redwings.

A new duck pin champion has been crowned in the Cherry 3-year-old series of forms. Policeman Albert Cherry, the youngster rolled a total of 65 for his first effort and his dad says he will make bowling a habit of the daily routine for the youngster.

The Palo Kings won the odd game from the Spartans in the Class C league of the San Francisco and Suburban bowling league on the Auditorium alleys Friday night, while the Palo Alto team of San Francisco is to meet the S. F. club.

PUBLICITY FROM CHAMBER OF COMMERCE UNAUTHORIZED.

In last Thursday's Tribune appeared an editorial entitled, "Chamber of Commerce Official Place That Organization Actively in Politics." The editorial in question was based upon publicity sent out officially from the Chamber and published in various newspapers. This publicity set forth that the Chamber of Commerce was to send out a letter urging its membership to vote, for the proposed charter and containing arguments in favor of one side only of the question of county division concerning which there is acknowledged to be a wide diversity of opinion within the body.

In a letter addressed to THE TRIBUNE, published in full in Sunday's issue, the president of the Chamber, Mr. Joseph H. King, on the authority of a majority of the board of directors, frankly declares:

"The statement of the proceedings of the above meeting as released for publication is in error in including a statement that the directors of the Chamber of Commerce had voted to call upon all members to support the proposed city and county charter, and that a resume of arguments in favor of consolidation would be included in the notice sent out."

Mr. King further explains that it was the intention to send out only a mere statement that a majority of the board of directors had gone on record in favor of the charter and county division, the resolution itself to be quoted.

The Tribune is pleased to learn that the publicity sent out from the Chamber was unauthorized and in error in stating that members were to be urged to vote for county division, and that arguments on one side only of this controverted question were to be contained in any communication issued.

While conceding that there is nothing in the laws of the organization to prevent active participation in politics, THE TRIBUNE disagrees with those directors who contend that such a policy is a wise one to pursue. Political activity has been disastrous to many strong organizations and would be likely to prove harmful to the Oakland Chamber. There are two thousand members of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, and it would appear wise that all these members be permitted to express an opinion, through a referendum vote, upon questions involving grave policy, particularly those that might precipitate the organization actively into politics.

Upon all questions relating to the advancement of the city of Oakland and Alameda County THE TRIBUNE will continue to actively support the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, as it has consistently done in the past. It regrets that publicity was issued from the Chamber which gave cause for criticism, and is happy to be officially informed that the publicity was unauthorized.

TRAGEDY IN WASHINGTON.

Snow fell in unprecedented abundance in the Bay district yesterday. It brought joy to many thousands of children who had never seen snow before. It covers the hills back of Oakland and Berkeley today with a white mantle, giving the hills a new picturesqueness, a new beauty, a new serenity.

But snow brings also tragedies. In Washington it overweighed the roof of a moving picture theatre until the roof collapsed upon the audience, killing 113 men, women and children and injuring 150 others. The national capital is in sorrow today, stunned by the magnitude of its disaster.

The Washington tragedy is peculiarly regrettable because it was preventable. Some architect was employed who did not have the sense or the range of calculation in his technical knowledge to provide against an extra weight of snow on the roof; or some builder was too parsimonious, too devoted to profit-squeezing, to make the provision if his attention was called to it. And the usual penalty for faulty construction is loss of human life. There seems to be no way to avoid danger from buildings so constructed that they will now stand up. If they fall someone is hurt, as a general rule. Washington will have its investigation, but that will bring little consolation to the survivors of the families of those who lost their lives.

HIS WORST ROLE.

Sometimes Mr. William J. Bryan is an eloquent pleader for a worthy cause; again he is a delightful and friendly sentimentizer; again the vigorous defender of a popular right; again just a plain faker. In the latter role he, like all fakers, is unlovely and perhaps only half his natural self.

A few days ago Mr. Bryan wrote a measured objection to the four-power Pacific agreement, because freedom of independent action for the United States was not specifically reserved in the treaty clauses.

This agreement between Great Britain, France, Japan and the United States provides that in the event of the interests of one power being threatened or attacked the four powers shall consult together with a view to reaching a joint decision on the appropriate action to take.

The implication of this condition is perfectly plain. There is no probability of attack against any one of the signatory powers from a non-signatory power. The apprehension—and the omission of mention of it is commendable—is that one of the parties to the agreement may threaten or infringe the interest of one or all of the other parties.

Thus this clause of the treaty really is an agreement to resort to the methods of arbitration before official determination to settle the issue by warfare. The spirit of arbitration runs throughout the treaty; and the content of the treaty is the condition that threatening disputes shall be discussed among the four powers in concert before proceeding with hostilities. There is no denial of independent action after this conference.

Now, it is one of Mr. Bryan's proud boasts that he concluded some thirty arbitration treaties during his regime as Secretary of State. These treaties have the same purpose and prescribe almost the same course as provided for in the four-power Pacific treaty. And in none of Mr. Bryan's treaties is there a specific declaration that the United States shall have freedom of independent action, no more than there is a declaration that such freedom is denied.

Mr. Bryan became the political demagogue for the moment it required to emit his stricture on the work of the Washington conference.

WOULD BE GOOD CHOICE.

News from Washington indicates that Senator Tasker L. Oddie of Nevada may be assigned to the place on the Senate naval affairs committee made vacant through the death of Hon. Boise Penrose of Pennsylvania. Senator Oddie's record in the Senate, although he has been in that chamber but a short time, has attracted the attention of his colleagues because of his ability and aptness to transact legislative business.

California would be greatly pleased if Senator Oddie should be appointed to the Naval Affairs Committee. It knows the Nevada statesman favorably. He was governor of his State during the period of arranging for participation in the exposition of 1915 and he proved a good friend.

The importance which the Pacific Fleet has assumed in the naval establishment calls for a larger western representation on the naval affairs committee of both houses of Congress. Senator Oddie can be depended upon to give vigorous support to any proposal for increasing the adequacy and efficiency of the navy in the Pacific; his stand in connection with recent naval questions related to the Pacific is an earnest of this.

Portugal protests that it cannot pay the upkeep of former Emperor Karl of Austria and his consort and their menage on the island of Madeira. The Allied Supreme Council must find sources of revenue for their maintenance. Since the Allies must pay the bill, why do they not send the couple a little farther from the shores of Europe, so the danger of new Karlism uprisings in Austria will be diminished?

Among the gems of logic emitted by the advocates of county division is the assertion that "The University of California is no advantage to Alameda county." This statement is not interesting because it is incomparably silly, but because it is a fair measure of the demand for serious attention which the whole argument for county division provokes.

Science is making a great fuss over the discovery of a blue caterpillar. Until we looked into the matter it had been a cherished belief of ours that the silkworms were of all colors and trained to spin cocoons to the market's taste. Perhaps this blue caterpillar is one who is discouraged at the restrictions placed in the way of a butterfly existence.

The new peace dollar, which seems to have found its way into certain hands, is receiving general criticism. Passing up the obvious observations concerning a man who would find fault with any kind of a dollar, one may turn to the things that are being said. There is one writer who has called it a "flapper dollar" and who holds that the open-lipped girl thereon looks as if she might be saying, "fine's, bizz!" or "say, listen!" More likely the girl is exercising a prerogative, long neglected by the lady of the dollar, and is doing the talking which precedent says money does.

Up in Medford, Ore., there is a gentleman named Arthur Perry who gets out what he calls "Ye Smudge Pot." Between card sessions at the local hotel and city council meetings he packs in the smudge pot jokes which travel the length of the country. NOTES and COMMENT

The New York World comments on a Penrose eccentricity. "This man with Senator Boise Penrose's knowledge of practical business methods should have had at the time of his death nearly a quarter of a million dollars in cash in a safe-deposit box in Washington must seem extraordinary. That large sum, if invested in prime securities like Liberty bonds, would have brought him an annual income greater than his official salary, but instead he preferred to keep the money under lock and key in notes in denominations ranging from $10,000 to $50."

The Los Angeles Times comments on the proposition to regulate the skirt's altitude by vote: "The mayor of Council Bluffs is trying to have a referendum on the question of the proper length of the feminine skirt. When it is decided he would incorporate it into municipal ordinance. He would have the vote taken by women alone. This is in keeping with the spirit of the initiative and referendum and is of vastly more interest and importance than some of the balloting that has been going on under the California laws."

From the Red Bluff News, and purely local: "When you start up the Inskip grade next August you will wonder how your old radiator ever got cold enough to freeze up in January."

MOVIES AND ROADS.

Since the movies came to the mountains roads have changed. Last summer I looked about the dusty hall where the pictures are shown. The people from my valley were there, and it was evident that they were accustomed to theaters. JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE FAILURE.
He was a failure. Let's study his case:
He entered, and then didn't finish the race.
Somebody passed him that he couldn't catch
And so, in despair, he dropped out of the match—
Quit trying, and worried and heart-sick and sore,
He decided that he wouldn't run any more.

He got a position, and made a mistake—
As everyone living is certain to make—
And so they discharged him. But right there and then
He made up his mind he was doomed among men:
He put on his hat and went out of the door,
Deciding that he wouldn't think any more.

He was a failure. And yet he possessed
That self-same equipment God gives to the best;
Twasn't lack of two legs and two arms, and a brain
That made all his efforts seem useless and vain—
He failed not because he was really unfit,
But because he was always so ready to quit.

What Mothers Can Do To Have Real Prize Babies

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

What are the lessons to be learned from the baby contests recently held in New York?

Upward of twenty thousand infants were entered for the prize. Babies of every nationality, blonde babies and dark babies, white yellow and black, were put forward by their fond mothers, each hoping to win first place.

It was extremely difficult to select from this wealth of contestants a single baby worthy of first honors. As a matter of fact, the judges failed to make ultimate determination and decided the first prize between two babies who had passed the semi-finals with equal marks.

The most significant thing about the winners was that both winners, each about one year and a half old, had been regular visitors to a more health station. From the early age of one month, each baby had the benefits of systematic physical examinations and medical advice.

The owner of an automobile who neglects to put his car in the shop once in a while for a general overhauling will find his machine running on one cylinder, "knocking," lacking in power or absolutely stationary.

Why should an automobile be given better care than a baby? Why should a racehorse be given more attention than a contestant in life's race?

No woman lacks that most wonderful of instincts—maternal love. Her instincts of motherhood tell her many things. But with all this, she needs skilled professional advice. Topsy "just grew," but modern medical knowledge will smooth the way for better physical development and happier lives for the little ones of today.

Those two prize babies and all the babies considered for the final contests had been brought up by rule.

Their feedings had been prepared scientifically. They had had regular hours for sleep or rest. Every day they were taken out into the open. Their living-rooms were always ventilated. Each slept alone in a room with open windows. Each was bathed and dressed in a proper way.

The nose, mouth, throat, ears and digestive organs were normal, because the doctors and nurses never neglected what might appear to the mother to be an unimportant symptom.

Clean limbs, white teeth, clear skin, normal function of every abdominal organ, proper breathing space and lung action, good eyesight and hearing, correct posture of the body and almost general physical perfection are the result of health education.

This baby contest has resulted in widespread discussion and normal edge of what constitutes normal baby development. It has marked the difference between a pretty baby and the physically perfect baby.

When we human beings progress a little more in knowledge we will place far above beauty good health—good health expressed by normal function, glowing vigor and resistance of mind and body.

SNOW FALL GIVES CITY WHITE ROBE

First Time in Ten Years Oakland Experiences the Real
Touch of Winter; Foothills
Mantled With Deep Snow

Hinting at the severity of back east winters, and of the blizzards sweeping the eastern and central western states, snow fell for the first time in many years in the San Francisco bay region yesterday, and the hills north and east of Oakland today carried traces of the phenomenon.

The heaviest snow fall was in Berkeley, where an average of three inches was reported. The snow covered the campus of the University of California, trees and shrubbery and the roofs of houses and buildings throughout that city. During the day Berkeley was a Mecca for sightseers, and thousands of persons on foot and in automobiles arrived to climb the hills where the snow was the heaviest.

Snow also fell in practically every other city in the bay region. In many places it was light and melted as soon as it struck the ground. In Alameda, it fell steadily for an hour and a half, many of the flakes being large as a quarter, but melted as soon as it touched the earth.

Although the flakes melted as fast as they fell in San Francisco, except on the hill tops, it was the heaviest fall of snow there since 1887, when three and seven-tenths inches were measured in Market street, according to the weather bureau.

HIGHLANDS ARE

Starting Saturday night, the white covering gradually spread yesterday
over the highlands of Berkeley,
Alameda, Oakland and Marin counties. By nightfall the coast range and the Santa Cruz hills extending south beyond Santa Clara county lay under the snow. Thousands of persons climbed to the hills through the falling flakes for a taste of eastern winter sport. Snowballs thrown from automobiles snowed from the heights gave other Oaklanders their first experience with this kind of a missile.

A riot call was sent into the police department when snowballs crashed through windows of a street car on Broadway. Small boys were warned

Challenge for Figures Still Dodged by Charter League

Seventeen days have elapsed since the presentation by the Alameda County Anti-Division League, of figures carefully compiled by experts, and checked by William Dolge & Co., certified public accountants, showing that county division would result in a minimum tax rate of $5.43 on the $100, as against the present rate $4.91, an increase of 52 cents.

These figures show the taxpayers of Oakland receive $450,000 more each year than they pay into the county treasury. For instance:

In behalf of orphans and half orphans, the city of Oakland receives $57,400 per year in benefits more than it contributes in taxes. In assistance to indigents in their homes, the city receives $22,300 more than it pays.

Through use of tubercular sanitarium and infirmary, actual use, the Oakland benefit is $45,000 more than it pays. In school apportionment there is another large gain.

Likewise, through use of the receiving hospital, care of feeble-minded, county jail, detention home and Associated Charities, the saving to Oakland, because of the excess of benefits over taxes paid, is $14,350.

The statement also shows that Oakland, as a city and county, would have to maintain all of its present city functions and bear the whole burden of county expense.

According to a provision of the state law practically all of the county officers must be retained. The provisions of the charter open the door to unlimited expenditure through creation of new offices, departments and boards, and the employment of innumerable experts, deputies and clerks with salaries to be fixed by the manager or metropolitan council.

The Charter League has presented a statement from expert accountants saying they have checked over the figures of the Taxpayers' Association and that on them a certain saving "should be" made. The Anti-Division League, seventeen days ago, made this proposition:

That the expert accountant of the Charter League go over the figures with the expert accountant of the Alameda County Anti-Division League and, if there is a conflict of opinion, the two select a third certified public accountant and that the agreement reached by the three experts be presented to the voters of Oakland in order that they may know what county division and the new charter scheme will cost the taxpayers.

If the Charter League is certain of its figures, why does it refuse this very fair proposition?

PSYCHO-ANALYSIS

by ANDRE TRIDON

This is the first of an extensive course in Psycho-Analysis prepared for popular study by the noted French savant for readers of The Oakland TRIBUNE. The writer will attempt to explain the intricacies of the new mental theory so that all may understand. Andre Tridon is author of "Psycho-analysis, Its History, Theory and Practice," "Psycho-analysis and Behavior," "Psycho-analysis, Sleep and Dreams," etc.

WHAT IS PSYCHO-ANALYSIS?

PSYCHO-ANALYSIS is not a new faith. You do not have to accept any particular creed or to bow to the authority of any prophet when you study psycho-analysis. Psycho-analysis is a practical science of the mind. In that respect it differs profoundly from psychology, which is a theoretical science of mental phenomena. It differs from so-called psychology in so far as it actually applies to human minds the results of its observations when those minds are upset or unbalanced. Psycho-analysis uses the methods employed in physics, chemistry, mathematics, etc. Like all other science it is evolving and growing day by day.

I said that psycho-analysis treats mental ills. Psycho-analysis does not, however, imitate certain mental scientists who claim that all ills have a mental origin, or are due to some error of our mind.

It is only after family physicians, specialists, dentist, X-ray man, etc., have given up all hopes of finding a physical cause for a patient's ailments that the psycho-analyst feels justified in beginning to treat that patient.

Psycho-analysis is not merely a mode of treatment for mental disturbances. It supplies us with an explanation for a thousand mysterious phenomena of our life due to unconscious forces driving us against our will and without our knowledge. It is fully as important to the well as to the sick. To the sick it brings freedom, to the well a larger measure of freedom.

Finally I must dispel a misconception of the new science which is shared by many. Psycho-analysis cannot and should not ignore the sexual life, which is after all the origin of all life. But it is not as some misinformed persons pretend, a constant raking up of sexual facts. Far from it. As we shall see in the next article, psycho-analysis has outlawed the sexual life. Modern analysts no longer consider sex as the life force, but only as one of the many manifestations of the life force.

CHOICES OF COFFEE CAKES.

Coffee cakes are generally liked in America, and appear at breakfast, luncheon and afternoon tea oftener than with afternoon coffee. We are as a people not addicted to eating between meals. It has taken some years to educate us to afternoon tea, and but few of us drink afternoon coffee. Yet the appeal of the coffee cake is difficult to resist, and it is a good idea to collect recipes for a few different kinds so as not to be dependent upon the baker for our supply.

Dresden Mocha Cake.
Cream together one cupful of sugar and the beaten yolks of four eggs. Stir in slowly a cupful of sifted flour and a teaspoonful of baking powder. Next, add a tablespoonful of coffee essence or twice that amount of very strong coffee. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs, and bake in two good-sized tins, very lightly buttered. When cold place cake on a plate, cover it with whipped cream, and place the other on top of it. Frost with a soft frosting made of the stiffly beaten white of one egg and a cupful and a half of sifted powdered sugar. Decorate with a tablespoonful of the coffee essence.

Spanish Cakes.
Cream together three-quarters of a pound of butter with one pound of sugar and two beaten eggs, then slowly sift in one pint of flour, a level tablespoonful each of cloves, cinnamon and ground sweet seeds. Knead well, and roll out a quarter of an inch thick, then cut in small cakes with a cutter. Place two inches apart in a buttered tin, and bake in a medium oven. Dust with cinnamon and sugar white hot.

Italian Cakes.
Cream together a half-cupful each of sugar and butter. Add a well-beaten egg and two tablespoonfuls of strong coffee. Sift in enough flour to make a soft dough, roll out thin, and cut in fancy shapes. Bake and use a soft frosting, in which sprinkle chopped nuts.

Florida Orange Cakes.
Beat the yolks of four eggs and add to them a tablespoonful of orange juice. Add a cupful and a half of sugar and beat for ten minutes. Add a half-spoonful of salt and a little grated orange rind. Stir in a half-cupful of boiling water, then fold in the stiffly-beaten egg whites, and sift in one cupful and a half of flour with a teaspoonful and a half of baking powder. Bake ten minutes in a hot oven. Frost with a soft frosting made of two cupfuls of confectioner's sugar, the strained juice of an orange, and a quarter of a teaspoonful of corn-starch.

What Does Your Wife Do?

Foot-binding, which resulted in women having feet so small as to be practically useless, has been discontinued in enlightened China.

In the Cambria coalfield of Wyoming small quantities of gold and silver are said to be present in the coal veins. In South Africa a similar occurrence has been noted, the coal occurring in seams running through the quartzite ore.

Holding a Husband

by Adele Garrison

Of course, there was nothing else to be done. I was glad to own the lovely old place, and was already reveling in the prospect of rehabilitating it, yet with the obsessing dread of the Virginia girl's interest in my husband upon me I would have been glad to share any tenement room with him in the city if only I could be always with him.

The saner half of my brain told me how absurd my attitude was. Dicky and I would be bored to death with each other if we were never apart. And I knew that the surest way to disgust and weary him would be to utter any objection to his sojourns in the city which, of course, for the most part would be necessary to his work.

But my heart was heavy as we went into the real estate office, where the wizened Mr. Olcott and the buxom Mrs. Burgess were already waiting for us—Dicky had stopped at a tea house and had telephoned the real estate dealer to be ready—and it was heavier still when we went out again with the deed for the property tucked into Dicky's pocket. The thing was irrevocably done. I wondered if, after all, it were a wise move.

We spent an uneasy hour chasing elusive trade carpenters and painters from their homes, and her respective jobs and back again, finally wringing reluctant promises to see us in a day or two. And when we turned the car homeward we looked at each other in dismay.

"Whatever our mother will say," I began.

"To the dickens with what she says," Dicky said irritably. "I don't know what license she has to butt in anyway. I'll run her down to town in a few days and let her chase these haughty kaisers around a bit. Just now I'm worrying over something else."

He did not speak again till we had left the village behind us. "Look here," he said, leaning toward me. "Did it ever strike you that I'm getting the little end of this deal? You and the baby will be out here in the country you love, while I can only spend my little spare time just waking up to the fact that I'm going to be a darned lonesome man."

I held my breath even now when I think how nearly came to wounding my husband's feelings carelessly and irretrievably at his declaration that he was going to be a very lonesome man in the city without me. There was no particular tenderness in his voice when he made these protest, but there was distinct resentment, and I fancied, his usual disposition to blame me for the household arrangement which had been forced upon us by his own folly in selling our Marvin home. And all the bitter fancies concerning Edith Fairfax in which I had been indulging crowded into my brain and forced the cynical little query to my lips: "Are you sure of that?"

Dicky started as if I had thrust a stiletto at him, and turned upon me fiercely.

"What d'ye mean by that?" he demanded. "There's a lot of us trying to be decent to you, isn't there? Always hanging out some nagging, blistering dope like that! Now if you really want to know, I'll tell you. But his little tirade had given me time to repent and plan how best to remove the impression I had given him. My temper was not easy to placate, and the irritating things he was saying, but another my resentment ruthlessly, took my right hand from the wheel, and laid it on his tenderly for an instant.

"Please don't fly off at a tangent like that. I'll tell you what I mean," I said softly.

He gave a short little laugh.

"That's what I'd like to know," he retorted, but the rancor had gone from his tone, and I realized that my task was half-accomplished.

"Suppose I meant," I said, picking my way slowly, "that I have no intention of letting you get lonesome in the city? You'll be out here most of the time this summer, anyway, and whenever you want me, suppose you let me come in and share the studio for a day or two? Then in the fall we surely can find something where you and I can stay part of the time till the housing situation lets up and we are ready to get a city apartment or a suburban home once more."

Listen, World

A man has recently entered a plea to the court that his divorced wife shall pay him alimony. And you would think the solar system had burst out a fuse, there's such a clamor. But why shouldn't she? Why isn't it just as fitting for a wife to pay her husband alimony as for a husband to pay a wife?

When two young people marry, the assumption is that they are going to be in full possession of their faculties. They are to be equal. She is doing as well as the man. In fact, she usually knows much better what she is doing. The man has just as many dreams and illusions involved as she. He is just as sensitive, just as tender. He is making just as big a change in his life's program as she is in here, and it things go smash his plans will be equally wrecked. Since this is so, why isn't he just as much entitled to damages as she if they are wrecked? If you're going to put the thing on a commercial basis, let's have a law making her worth as much as he?

"Preposterous!" you cry. "Silly! Utterly unfair!" I agree with you—it is preposterous, silly and unfair. But the modern young man is just as much entitled to a wife to collect alimony from a husband. If she be old or sick, provision should be made for her—but such cases are the exception. Or if there are minor children provision should be made for them until their majority, unless they are supporting themselves. But there is no reason why a man should pay alimony to a healthy, unencumbered young woman after they have agreed to sever marital bonds.

Nor is it any more tragic for her to be forced to support herself than for an unmarried girl to support herself. Every human being should support himself or herself. If she has failed to do it within matrimony, let her do it without. Which is exactly what any line spirited girl will do.

There's a helping hand for Jerry and a little life story that will bring big dividends to every one of us if we'll let it sink home:

My Dear Geraldine: I have been going to write to you many times, but keep putting it off; but that letter signed "A Woman Not a Fool," made me feel that I must at least be am not willing for her sake but for some of our other pals. She evidently couldn't change her views for a thunderstorm.

Now, this whole thing, which I, Jerry, "run down the poor girls" and side in with the men. Now, dear, I think that we girls need about all the "running down" we can get. A lot of the fellows about the men, because by the so-called running down we can see our faults and try to correct them. When I was first married we got along all right. I was a good wife, and he was a good husband. I had a right every other day, followed with plenty of tears, my special offering, and hubby's specially was just—well, he just was not. And he did, for a while, but then soon he wanted his "say in the pie," and I was going to leave a dozen times, but somehow never went, thank goodness.

Well, I finally came out of it. I wondered why I thought my hubby was going to stand more from me than my brothers and parents. I was married for a while, and I did spill the coffee. I never said anything, and Jerry, it was fun seeing the surprised look on his face. And now, after five years, we get out of it. I have had a lot of letters, but we settle them by talking instead of quarreling.

Now then, "Woman Not a Fool," please tell me who was to blame. I was a good wife, and he was a good husband. I expected everything from him. Now, didn't I need a very bad talking to? If "teacher" had been there I most certainly would have been set straight, and another day, that strange, or is it strange after all? Hubby treats me like a queen now and does everything for me.

Well, I guess I will close, as baby needs me. I have two now. Your pal, MADGE.

Thank you millions, Madge dear, and here's love to the whole family. Folks, I'm going to give you a letter to answer. Here's a home which is typical of thousands of homes right here in Oakland today. I am still in the "stone" habit, an income that won't stretch—and growing unhappier. No big tragedy yet, but the steady "wearing away of the stone" that will some day bring me out of the "stone" habit. Each one of you knows of some such couple, and each one of you has longed to give the needed advice. Well, here's your chance. What shall I tell E. C. G.?

Dear Jerry: Though I've been reading your column a while, I have never written you until now. I don't mean this letter as a complaint but just to see if you can offer any suggestion that may help matters any.

My husband earns $150 a month and because we owe a few bills outside of living expenses we cannot make it stretch the way it should, the result being that I am in a state of tension. I want to pay all to one and I like to give a little, and then the fun begins. I haven't had but one dress and hat in over two years, nor speak of different little things I've got to go without; some of them are necessary, too. I'd try and get a job, but I have two babies and there isn't anyone with whom I can share the work.

I know my husband worries a lot and I like to help, but I can't work, and that is about the only way I can. But, Jerry, is that all? I am a mother of three, and I like—come home at all hours and curse me and ignore me in front of people. He never takes us anywhere and I have tried that little trick of always being sweet and pleasant, but it didn't work. I might as well be careless and grouchy for all he notices me. Never a day goes by we don't quarrel, and always over some little thing, but even so it's making a difference in both of us. We are both young; he is 25 and I am 23, so maybe we will change later, but that won't help us now. Can you help me, Jerry? Every time something goes wrong I think of you, as I have no one to talk to, you can be sure that is quite often.

With the best of luck to you, I am sincerely, E. C. G.

To tell—or not to tell—that's the question? And here's another one of the answers:

From Now On

His arms tightened suddenly in a great, overwhelming parody of a fear around Teresa, and he bent his head, bent it lower, lower still, until his face was close to that white face he held, and through the darkness his eyes searched it in an agony of apprehension.

And then he started forward again and began to descend the fire-escape; and now he groped uneasily for foothold as he went. It seemed rickety and unstable, this spidery thing that sprawled against the side of the wall, and it was dark, and without care the foot would slip through the openings between the treads. It had not seemed that way when he had gone up and down when disposing of the valises. Only now it was a priceless burden that he carried—this form that lay close-pressed against his breast, whose touch, alternately now, brought him a sickening sense of dread and a surging hope that sent the blood leaping like a millrace through his veins.

He went down, step after step, his mind a brain shrieking at him to hurry because there was not a single second to lose and he was slow, maddeningly slow. He could not see the treads, not only because it was dark, but because Teresa's form was a barrier. He could only feel with his feet—and now and then his body swayed to preserve his balance. Was there no end to the thing? It seemed like some bottomless pit of blackness into which he was descending. And it seemed as though the pit held an abominable significance in its blackness and its depth, as though it beckoned him on to engulf them; it seemed—God, if she would only move, if she would not be so still, so terribly still in his arms!

Another step—another—and then his foot, searching out, found only space beneath it. He must free one arm now, so that he could cling to the bottom tread and lower himself to the ground. It was only a short drop, he knew, for the lower section of the fire-escape was one of those that swung on hinges, and when, previously coming up, Teresa had passed down for him, he had been able to reach it readily with a spring from the ground. But he dared not jump even that short distance now with Teresa, wounded, in his arms.

He changed his position, now to throw her weight into the hollow of his left arm, lifting her head so that it lay high upon his shoulder—and with the movement her hair brushed his lips. It brought a sudden, choking sob from Dave Henderson, and in a great yearning impulse he let his head sink down until his cheek for an instant laid against hers—and then, the muscles of his right arm straining until they cracked, he lowered her head down and dropped to the ground.

He ran now, lurching, across the yard and out into the lane, and here he paused again to listen. But he heard nothing. He was clear of that narrow trap, and he was alone, and he was free. He ran on again, stumbling again, with his burden. And now, though he did not pause to listen any more, it seemed as though his throbbing eardrums caught the sound at last that they had been straining to hear. Wasn't that the police behind there? Now, on the street in front of the Iron Tavern? It sounded like it—like the arrival of a police patrol.

He dashed the shed where he had hidden the valises, entered, and laid Teresa tenderly on the floor. He used his flashlight then—and a low moan came from his lips. The bullet had cut across the side of her neck just above the shoulder; the wound was bleeding profusely, and over the package of bandages, around which her arms were still tightly clasped, there had spread a crimson stain. He drew her arms gently apart, laid the package on the floor, and then, wrenching one of the valises open, snatched at the first article of linen that came to hand.

His lips trembled as he did his best to staunch the flow of blood and bind the wound.

"Teresa! Teresa!" Dave Henderson whispered. Her eyes opened—and smiled.

She made an effort to speak. He bent his head to catch the word.

"All right, Dave," Millman's voice had come to Henderson quickly; I'll be there as soon as I can get my car and pick up the doctor."

Dave Henderson stepped out into the night and pulled off his hat. His forehead was dripping wet. He walked back to the lane, listened, heard nothing, and stole along it and entered the shed again, and knelt by Teresa's side. She was unconscious.

Brain Tests

5 Minutes to Answer This

At the big turkey shoot the contest resulted in a tie between three crack shots, each of whom fired six shots at a target.

The points scored were—One 50, two 25s, three 20s, three 10s, two 5s, two 2s and three 1s, a grand total of 213, of which each claimed 71.

It makes quite a respectable puzzle to sort those points into three scores of six shots each and each totaling 71.

Can you do it?

Answer to Yesterday's.

The answer to Blink's alarm clock puzzle is that the alarm went off at either 2 14-15 minutes past 5 or 25 25-13 minutes past 12, two of those rare moments when the hands might be reversed and yet tell a correct time.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

by IRVIN S. COBB

A Born Snob.

In those bygone times when New York's Chinatown was in its heyday—whatever a heyday is—there were three cronies among its white habitués who were popular with newspaper reporters, novelists, sightseers and others in search of local color. One was Blinky Britt and one was Honest John Clary, so-called because once upon a time when Blinky went to sleep and his glass eye fell out of its socket and rolled across the floor, Honest John picked it up and gave it back to him, and the third was Dingo Katz. Honest John was a barkeeper in a Doyers street saloon. Blinky was a lobby-gow, or messenger, for Chinese restaurants, and Dingo was a pickpocket, making a specialty of robbing the women passengers on trolley cars. And they were the Three Musketeers of the Oriental quarter.

In an evil hour, though, the law stepped in and broke up the triumvirate. Dingo, while playing his profession, was arrested and lodged in the Tombs. At his trial he was found guilty, and the Judge sentenced him to three years at Sing Sing. Although the underworld agreed that his mob had done all for him that it was humanly possible to do, it is said that an unreasonable rancor filled his soul on the morning when he was taken to prison.

Some months later a Journalist prowling through Chinatown looking for material happened upon Blinky Britt sitting in Nigger Mike Callahan's bar.

"Hello, Blinky," he said, "when did you hear from your old sidekick, Dingo?"

"Aw, say," answered Blinky, "cheese on dat sidekick stuff. I'm off of dat Dingo guy for life."

"Why, I thought you two were pals," said the newspaperman.

"So did I," Blinky said, "but we was a tumbler on 'em. I thought, 'Well, I'll be a fish peddler when I grow up! It's lucky I thought of it!'"

"Well, when de poor nut is been up dere fur going on, maybe two or three weeks, I says to myself dat it's no more'n de act of a friend dat I should go to see him. So I rolls a corner fur five iron men and I takes 'em de front wheels and I buys some makin's and some crullers and some sweet slum out of a candy shop and some soft scuffling out of a pie shop and one t'ing and another dat I knows up dere to dat town of Bold Center and I walks up de road to de big stone hogsgow on de hill. Dere's a bull in harness on de gate. See? So I says to dis bull, I says, 'Is dis visitors day?' And he says, 'Tis. Den I says, 'You pass de news to Dingo Katz dat his old pal, Blinky Britt is come to see him.'"

"And say, cull, do you know de woid dat Dingo sends back to me?"

"He sends me woid he ain't in."

Gwan-to-Bed Stories

THE ELEPHANT NAMED GORDON

Once upon a time, dear children, there was a missionary who left his young wife alone in Syracuse, New York, while he went out to convert the heathen in Africa. (Johnny, get off the piano.)

One day Mrs. Missionary received a little box from Mr. Missionary containing a small elephant named Gordon. Mrs. Missionary had never seen a small elephant and she read over very carefully the picture post-card from her husband which came with it: "Dearest, take good care of this pet and do not allow anything to happen to it. Weather very warm here. Cross mark at room where I am staying. Wish you were here. Lots of love."

Well, Mrs. Missionary had a lot of trouble smuggling Gordon Elephant into her flat, because the landlord did not allow pets in the house. But she got him in, anyway, and whenever the landlord would go to see them, she would pose him in the middle of the floor with a scarf over him so he looked like a library table.

As Gordon grew older, he became very useful around the house. He used to wash the dishes by squirting water at them through his trunk. He also made a lovely shower bath, and Mrs. Missionary taught him to vacuum clean the rugs by running his trunk over them and inhaling deeply. (Dorothy, will you tell the baby to quit pushing the piano around? It needs tuning.)

But all this time Gordon Elephant was growing. Mrs. Missionary had never seen a young elephant before, so she had no idea how big an elephant can get. Gordon had no idea, either. But in a few months he had grown to be almost as big as the piano. The neighbors downstairs were complaining bitterly because every time Gordon sneezed all their pictures fell off the walls. One night when Gordon had a nightmare, he jumped out of bed and broke all the dishes in the pantry downstairs, and huge chunks of plaster fell on their heads. Finally Gordon got so big Mrs. Missionary had to enlarge all the doors so he could move from one room to another. And then one day a terrible calamity happened. Gordon Elephant was coming in to the—

Say, it's bed time! Gwan to bed. I'll finish the story some other evening, maybe.

Markets were marked up a cent a dozen from Saturday's quotation of 44 1/2 cents. The poultry market for a slightly firmer market, but the demand for the northern end of the state and the south. There was a marked slackening in prices rising a cent a dozen, due to bad weather in the southwest. Butcher was unchanged.

The apple market continues very firm, the price of oranges remaining at about $5.50 for choice stuff, but the demand is only medium.

BOARD APPROVES $22,000 TO BUY A MUSEUM SITE

First Step Is Taken to Spend $100,000 on Property for Snow Collection.

The city of Oakland this morning took the first step toward the ultimate building of a museum to house the Snow African game collection. An ordinance appropriating $22,000, first payment of $100,000 on the Kendall property at Nineteenth, Alameda and the lake, was passed by the city board today. Other payments will be made at stated times.

It is specified that the city will forever own a $22,000 interest in the property, even if all other payments were made. This is to safeguard the public investment.

In a letter to the council, Mayor Davis asserted that the property has been appraised by D. W. LaFortune, R. W. Kittrell and F. F. Porter, really men, and the valuation of $100,000 is believed to be just. In the discussion of the purchase, Commissioner Edwards dissented, urging that the money be used to build additions to the present museum at Thirteenth and the lake. Commissioner Carter replied that because of the lake boulevard and other improvements the Kendall property is believed by Snow and others to be the best property in the west.

The city council was apprised by Edwards that the present system of allowing Liberty Bonds to be taken in lieu of cash bonds from street and sidewalk contractors does not work out as it should. Edwards asserts that the fluctuating value of the bonds makes the hard to handle. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

New Commander of Ninth Area Arrives

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—Major General Charles G. Morton is in San Francisco to relieve Gen. Wm. M. Wright as commanding officer of the Ninth Corps area of the army. Morton arrived yesterday. He had an active role in the World War. Wright has been ordered to the Philippines as commanding officer.

Stage Driver Found Dead At Car Wheel

STOCKTON, Jan. 30.—C. E. Davis, stage driver between Mokelumne Hill and Valley Springs, was found dead at the wheel of his machine near Fosteria today. The body was found by a passing motorist who found the way obstructed by the car. The engine was still running. Davis resided at Mokelumne Hill with his wife and family.

Oakland Tribune Offers $10 for Best Title for This Unnamed Cartoon; Here's Your Chance!

Just name the cartoon. It is easy. For the best title, the one most apt, the cleverest or most fitting. The OAKLAND TRIBUNE will pay $10 each week. The rules are simple, as follows:

The titles must be written on a postcard and addressed to Title Editor, OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

The titles must not exceed twelve words in length.

They must reach The OAKLAND TRIBUNE by Thursday night following the Monday the picture is published.

One person may send in as many titles as he wishes, but only two on one postcard. Winners will be announced each Sunday.

Agreement Is Expected on School Supervisors' Cases

A letter from the district attorney, advising that two supervisors cannot be demoted to seventh and eighth grade teachers at Frick school, will be read tonight before the board of education, and the matter will be discussed from all angles.

The district attorney holds that these supervisors' contracts are valid and cannot be broken without the consent of the supervisors, which has not been given. The latter hold that they are educators of long experience and training and have reached their present position by tedious stages, so that they are hardly willing to surrender their standing. On the other hand, it is admitted that negotiations are going forward to induce these supervisors to waive their rights at present during the "economy season" in the school department. The supervisors have admitted that they are willing to make almost any concession in the name of economy, provided that it does not affect their future employment or standing. Along these lines, it is believed that some agreement may be reached.

had been along the lines of Oakland Teachers' Association work, which was presumed to be allowable among educators. This matter was laid over from last meeting.

Planners' Reports Made to Oakland

In response to queries from the Oakland city planning commission rules and regulations of similar commissions from Bangor, Me., to Los Angeles are now flooding into the Oakland city hall.

It is found that city planning commissions have almost as many different functions and powers as there are cities. In some municipalities these commissions are almost all-powerful, while in other cities they are mere feeble shadows, with no power except to make respectful suggestions.

ONE DEAD, MANY SERIOUSLY HURT IN AUTO MISHAPS

S. F. Woman Killed; Driver Is Held for Manslaughter; Another Held by Police.

A woman is dead, and ten are suffering from injuries today as the result of a series of automobile accidents in the bay region over the week-end.

The result of an accident in blinding wind and rain, Mrs. Mary Little, 50 years old, of 1829 San Pablo avenue, Berkeley, died today at the St. Francis hospital, San Francisco.

Mrs. Little was crossing Seventh and Mission streets, San Francisco, late Saturday night holding her umbrella above her head and endeavoring to make her way through the wind when she was struck by an automobile driven by Frank J. Matter of 44 Hollywood street of that city. Patrolman Cornelius of the Southern station, who witnessed the accident, declared that Mrs. Little stepped directly in front of Matter's car and that he was unable to avoid striking her. The woman suffered broken legs and arms and internal injuries and after being treated first at the Central Emergency hospital was removed to the St. Francis hospital. Matter was charged technically with battery on Saturday and rearrested today for manslaughter.

STUDENT INJURED.

Miss Sally Loverage, 2523 Bancroft avenue, Berkeley, a student at the University of California, was struck by an automobile driven by Victor Marshall, Hotel St. Mark, as she was crossing the junction of Berkeley and Piedmont avenues yesterday. She was taken by Marshall to the Emergency hospital, where she was treated for contusions and a possible shoulder fracture.

When his automobile collided with a tree last night, her Albert, Fifth and B streets, Hayward, was cut about the head, Jauldine, his daughter, 6 years old, was badly bruised. Mrs. Emily Albert, his mother, was cut about the face and Eugene Albert, the father, received slight concussion of the brain. The accident occurred at the Oakland city line at Broadmoor and was caused by Tony Albert driving the car into a tree in the darkness and storm.

MOTORIST ARRESTED.

Louis Newman, 488 Fifty-eighth street, was arrested early this morning at Forty-eighth avenue and East Fourteenth street on a charge of running down Mrs. G. M. Hammond and refusing to stop and give aid. Mrs. Hammond was sitting in a buggy at East Fourteenth street and Twenty-fourth avenue, when Newman, it is alleged, came by in an automobile, striking her vehicle and throwing the woman to the pavement, where she sustained cuts and an injury to her back.

Struck by an automobile at Post and Solano streets, San Francisco, Joseph Byrd, 1482 Ellis street, that city, received a possible fracture of the skull. The automobile was driven by Robert J. Workman, 770 Grove street.

George Malin, 1332 Valencia street, San Francisco, was struck by an automobile at Twenty-fourth and Valencia streets, that city, today and suffered severe cuts and bruises. The machine was driven by Frank Menchetti of 22 Lizzie street, who conveyed him to the Central Emergency hospital.

Harold L. Moore of 1681 Howard street, San Francisco, sustained minor cuts and bruises when his automobile skidded from the State highway north of Santa Clara shortly after 6 o'clock last night, overturning in a ditch. Moore and a companion, whose name was not obtained, were thrown from the car, but sustained only slight injuries.

Mrs. Margarette F. Warren, 38 years old, of 3017 Carlton street, Berkeley, is in the Temple hospital in that city in a serious condition today as a result of being struck by a south-bound College avenue street car at College avenue and Dwight way, Berkeley, last night. She is suffering from a basal fracture of the skull and bruises and lacerations.

CHARITY BALLS TO RAISE FUNDS FOR UNEMPLOYED

Sewing Room Is Opened and Women Are Urged to Aid With Garments.

For the benefit of the unemployed two charity balls will be given in the immediate future. The first will be held at the Woodman's hall at 3256 East Fourteenth street on next Friday by the members of the Hawthorne Parent-Teachers Association.

In addition to the dance there will be an entertainment with Mrs. Barbara Barnett featured in the program. Mrs. Barnett is a social worker and will offer a selected list of numbers.

The committee in charge of the dance comprises Mrs. Phillip C. Rupert, Mrs. J. B. Gillman, Mrs. S. S. Arnold, Mrs. C. Anderson and Mrs. Robert E. Straub. S. S. Arnold will act as floor manager.

Friday, February 19, a charity ball will be held at the Hotel Claremont. The proceeds are to go to the relief of the unemployed and the citizens' emergency employment and relief committee has allied itself with the residents of Claremont in the project.

GROCERY FUND.

The entire proceeds from the dance will be turned into a fund with which groceries and other necessities will be purchased at wholesale price.

This store of supplies will be placed in a warehouse and the stock apportioned to local authorized charities who will issue orders on the warehouse.

Mrs. R. E. Danford of the citizens' committee and a member of the Oakland Civic Center, announced today that she is opening the sewing room announced last week. The room is next the Oakland Bank of Savings.

Mrs. Danford has issued a call for all club women to devote an hour or two each day to this sewing room as they did in the war. The women will make garments for children out of new materials donated and purchased with contributed funds.

W. S. Goodrich, superintendent of the municipal woodyard, said today that the cold snap is making things more difficult before.

HEAT IS NEEDED.

"When the weather was warmer the unemployed did not have to bother so much about heat," said Goodrich today. "Now it is imperative to have wood and coal."

"This morning 150 men went to work on the city roads. There were fifty more here anxious to be called."

"There seems to be a general misunderstanding of the statement made at the recent meeting of the citizens' committee at the Hotel Oakland."

"It was said there that there was 2 per cent of the working population out of work. On the contrary this 2 per cent is of the entire population."

"Thirty per cent of the working population is out of work."

Goodrich today again called attention to the action of the Remar Baking company in furnishing bread to the unemployed.

BREAD IS DONATED.

"This organization certainly deserves credit," said Goodrich today. "It started delivering bread here unsolicited and has continued faithfully. Each day from 200 to 300 loaves of bread are delivered here by the Remar concern."

"If all the others who contributed so well at the first would follow the Remar example things would be easier. The general public seems to have forgotten that the unemployed are increasing. There are now almost 1400 registered here for work."

"This condition isn't as dramatic or as spectacular as the flu but it is worse.

"On Saturday night we learned that a man and his wife and five children had been evicted by a Fruitvale landlord. They were on the street when we arrived, shivering in the cold evening air."

"We took some of the money collected by The TRIBUNE and installed them in a room. Today we found more comfortable quarters for them and put the father to work."

Everyman's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church collected $25 and a lot of clothing yesterday for the woodyard.

$250,000 Settlement Made to Mrs. Kohl

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—It is announced that Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Kohl, widow of Frederick Kohl, millionaire club man, has agreed to accept $250,000 as her share of the Kohl estate. She had her choice between a cash settlement and a $12,000 annuity. The bulk of the $1,500,000 estate is left to Mrs. Marion Lord of New York.

GIRLS SHOULD NOT BECOME OF AGE AT 18, WOMAN SAYS

Oakland Civic Center Passes Resolutions Asking Age Equality With Men.

Should women become "of age" at eighteen years? Members of the Oakland Civic Center think not.

Resolutions have been passed and forwarded to the California League of Women Voters asking that legislation to this effect be taken at the next session of the state law makers.

"The league has asked the various centers to prepare resolutions on new laws," said Mrs. George Harris of the local organization today, "and we feel that legislation on this matter is important."

"It is not right that women should become of age younger than men. We feel the legislature ought to do something about it."

"We are opposed also to the present system of soliciting names for initiative measures. We feel that the fee system should be abolished and have made a request to this effect."

The center is to hold its next meeting on February 10. Mrs. Palmer Lucas and Mrs. William Kent will speak.

Plans are being made also by the members for a card party to be held on February 23. A part of the funds collected will be turned over to the municipal woodyard, for distribution among the needy.
